

Third Party Given Tangible Form Now

Call For a National Convention May 30th to Name Presidential and Vice-Presidential Candidates, Issued.

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—The third party movement set underway here by a meeting of representatives political organizations, have been given tangible form with a call for a national convention at Minneapolis or St. Paul May 30, 1924, for the purpose of naming presidential and vice-presidential candidates in the name of the Progressive Party, Farmer-Labor Party, or such other names as the third party voters may have established in their states.

Those attending the gathering here pledged "that the calling of this convention shall be based upon the abolition of special privileges."
The described political privilege as meaning "the unjust economic advantage by possession of a small group, which controls our national resources, transportation, industry and credit, stifles competition and prevents opportunity for development of all and degrades conditions under which we live." Pledged those subscribing to its action to support any candidates nominated by its forthcoming convention.

An invitation to join in the movement was tendered to "all progressives and all progress organizations, partisan or non-partisan, which are in accord with the principles herein set forth."
The platform of principles set forth by the Chicago meeting called among other things, for "public control of natural resources by taxation of all forms of public ownership of railroads, canals and pipe lines governmental banking, by which the government shall enter the banking system, reserving to itself the sole right to issue currency and to determine the amount of currency which may be issued; and equal rights, economic, legal and political, for all citizens and all civil rights, including free speech, free press and peaceable assembly as agreed by the constitution."

SERIES OF CONFERENCES TO UNIFY VARIOUS ELEMENTS

(By The Associated Press.)
OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 20.—Unification of various independent political elements into a united third party to run its candidates in opposition to major parties in the 1924 political campaign is the object of a series of

Cause Of Piles

Dr. Leonhardt found the cause of piles to be internal. That's why salves and operation fail to give lasting relief. His harmless prescription HEM-ROID, removes the cause. Money back if it fails.—Paterson Drug Co., adv.

Better service and meals—Hotel Burton.

MRS. SUSIE M. MCINTIRE

A Well Woman Is Always Beautiful

How to Regain Health
Richmond, Va. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription made me a well woman when I was "down and out" physically. For about a year I was practically an invalid. I had severe pains across my back, got very weak and thin, and most of the time I was not able to walk around. I was very nervous and was told nothing but an operation would help me. About this time a friend advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I took about a dozen bottles of it and it only relieved me of all my trouble but put me in such perfect health that I have never had any weakness or suffering of any sort since. Favorite Prescription did wonders for me and I take pleasure in giving it my hearty recommendation.—Mrs. Susie M. McIntire, 240 S. Lombardy St.
Send 10c for trial pkg. to Dr. Pierce's Invalid's Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.—adv.

Aspirin

Beware of Imitations!

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on the wrapper, you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years and proved safe by millions for Colds Headache
Toothache Lumbago Rheumatism
Neuralgia Pain, Pain
Accept "Bayer Tablet of Aspirin" only. Each unbroken package contains proper directions. Handy boxes of 100 tablets also seal bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacturing of Monocarbolic acid of Salicylic acid.—adv.

conferences, the first of which starts here this afternoon.
Asserting that political elements that favor new party movement are loosely knit, Roy M. Harrop, of Omaha, temporary chairman of the progressive party, who called the conference, said that when Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, saw that a third party had been built up, he would very likely accept the nomination as its candidate for president. If Mr. Ford failed to accept, however, the party would turn to some one else for leadership.

Mr. Harrop added, however, that there was no question in his mind but what Mr. Ford would accept. G. E. Stevens, of Denver, Colorado, chairman of the Farmer-Labor party of Colorado and one of the attending delegates, seemed as optimistic on this point as Mr. Harrop, and declared that his party in Colorado was for Mr. Ford.

While some decision for concerted action by third party men is the principal object of the conferences, the date and meeting place for a national convention and the possible adoption of a platform of principles also are to be considered.
J. H. Hopkins, of New York, chairman of the committee of forty-eight, and Robert E. Polindexter, of Dearborn, Michigan, are among leaders scheduled to attend.

Birthplace of Jas. Monroe Will Be Made a Memorial

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The birthplace of James Monroe, now owned by a negro clergyman, is to be restored as a memorial to the expounder of Descendants of James Monroe to buy the house which rapidly is being carried away brick by brick by souvenir hunters and to make of it a repository for articles of historic interest associated with the former president. Situated in Westmoreland county, Virginia, within a stone's throw of the birthplace of Washington, the Monroe place will be connected with one of the main highways leading southward from Washington.

Mrs. Rose Gouverneur Hoes, of Washington, is a president of the Society, which numbers about twenty persons.

Berlin Bank Is Negotiating For Credit to Germany

(By The Associated Press.)
BERLIN, Nov. 20.—With regard to reports of the impending conclusion of an Anglo-American loan to Germany, the Boersens courier says that negotiations are in progress between a well known Berlin bank and a group of American, British and Dutch financiers for a credit to Germany of 1,400,000,000 gold marks.
The granting of this credit, says the newspaper is dependent upon the conditions that there be no change in the internal political situation in Germany and that the offer be made to only the Stresemann government.

The guarantee for the loan is to be assumed by the German government rather than by private industry continues the paper, adding that international capital probably will be invested in gold note bank which it is proposed to establish.

Negro Orderly Had Smallpox While Working

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—A negro orderly employed by a hospital here attended patients and performed his other duties for ten days while suffering from smallpox before his condition was perceived by health department inspectors who encountered him on the street. As a result every employee, physician and patient of the institution who came in contact with him during that period has been vaccinated in the last two days in an effort to prevent spread of the disease.

New Treaties Will Come Before Senate

Coolidge, Hughes and Lodge to Submit Various Pacts for Action—Arrangements Are Completed.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Added to the legislative burden of the coming session of Congress is to be the presentation to the Senate of several new treaties for whose reception arrangements already have been made by President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes with Chairman Lodge, of the Senate foreign relations committee.
With the Harding proposal for American participation in the world court already before the Senate, the new treaties which are to be transmitted to the Senate upon his reconvening include:
The treaty of Lausanne between the United States and Turkey, re-establishing relations with Turkey and containing capitulations governing commercial as well as diplomatic intercourse.
The Mexican treaty which paved the way for recognition by the United States for the Mexican and provides protection for American property rights in Mexico, as negotiated by John Barton Payne and Chas. E. Warren, special envoys of President Harding.

The Hughes-Carson treaty extending the shore limits of American wharves against rum runners and providing for entrance under seal of ship stores of liquor on British vessels.
In addition, the Canadian-Halliburton treaty is to be re-submitted to the Senate for amendment to meet Canadian objections.
Some members now were disposed to put ahead the Mexican treaty to expedite a complete rapprochement between the United States and Mexican government. The world court proposal of President Harding, however, has priority in point of time of submission.

Good Morning Judge!

Most of the mayor's attention this morning was directed to liquor cases. The case of E. J. McCarthy charged with operating an automobile while drunk was continued.

Glen Reynolds was sentenced to serve thirty days in jail and fined $51 and costs for violating the Mapp act but he noted an appeal. A similar charge against C. E. Alsbaugh was dismissed. In connection with the same case, Rose Johnston, colored, was sentenced to thirty days in jail and fined $51 and costs. An appeal was also noted in her case. It was a case in which the buyer was dealt with on the same footing as the seller, a new policy announced by the mayor several days ago.

Allen Graves was fined $51 and costs and sentenced to thirty days in jail for a violation of the Mapp liquor law.

A charge of felonious assault against Jennie Freeman, colored, was dismissed. The charge was brought by Maggie Regan.

A. D. Dorcus drew a fine of eleven dollars and costs for driving recklessly.

A charge of reckless driving against Roscoe Dehart was dismissed. J. D. Gray was not present to answer a charge of not having proper tags on his auto.

George Gilliam, colored, drew a fine of $5 and costs for not having proper tags on his machine.

Roy Stanfield, colored, charged with speeding, was not present.

A fine of $24 and costs was imposed on C. H. Walters for exceeding the speed limit.

Many Plead Guilty In Circuit Court

(Special to The Bee.)
CHATHAM, Va., Nov. 20.—Judge Turner Clement put in a full day at the opening of the Circuit Court yesterday during which thirty-seven indictments were returned by the grand jury. Eleven persons pleaded guilty to violating the Mapp act and were dealt with by the court. Judge Clement adjourned court yesterday evening in order to go to Farmville, where he will preside at court until next Friday when the Pittsylvania court session will be resumed.

Judge Clement has set November 30th as the date on which he will hear evidence on the contested will of Miss Pattie Cardwell. The will was offered for probate yesterday and a date was at once set for a hearing.

There are nine injunctions against alleged contract-breakers of the Tobacco Growers Co-operative Marketing Association which will be dealt with during the present term.

Of the 37 indictments returned here yesterday twenty-eight were for violation of the Mapp act. One of the indictments was against Harrison Ferguson, a negro who some weeks ago caused a fatal accident by driving his car into that piloted by a white man who was killed.

Those pleading guilty to liquor indictments yesterday were Ernest Cook, fined $10; Wyatt McBride, fined $50 and jailed for 30 days; L. A. Taylor, fined $100, and jailed for 60 days; J. P. Mann, fined $10; Thomas Mann, fined $10; John Wyatt, fined $50, jailed for 30 days; A. C. Farmer, fined $10; W. A. Dudley, fined $100, sent to jail for sixty days; Beverly Wood, fined $50, jailed 30 days; James Wood, fined $50, jailed 30 days; Isham Lanier, fined $50, jailed 30 days.

Five men on whom jail sentences imposed for violating the liquor law at the last term of court appeared yesterday and were remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

I. W. W. Convicts Put On Diet

(By The Associated Press.)
SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Nov. 20.—As a result of their refusal to work after demanding the release of J. B. Childs, their reputed leader, who was confined to the dungeon for striking Saturday, 71 convicts, sentenced to San Quentin prison for criminal syndicalism, are in solitary confinement on a diet of bread and water. All of the prisoners are said to be members of the Industrial Workers of the World.

BROWN AND TAN

A novel skirt is made of a brown and tan checked material in bold design and trimmed with fringe which outlines the pockets and side-opening flap.

Keep Quotations In Cotton From Bucketshop Men

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Asserting that millions of dollars have been lost by small traders in the South through cotton transaction with unscrupulous persons posing as cotton brokers, officials of the New York Exchange have sent notice to members of the exchange warning them against furnishing quotations of cotton prices to "any person or firm, who is engaged in operating a bucketshop." Secretary Thomas Hale announced.

Steps have been taken, also, he said, to weed out members of cotton exchanges in the south, who are suspected of doing business in violation of the rules.

The recent big advance in the price of raw cotton has made the mulcting of the small trader possible, despite the zealous guard maintained by the New York Cotton Exchange over its quotations and precautions taken to prevent them from reaching the hands of unscrupulous persons, Mr. Hale said.

Launch Electric Ships Today

(By The Associated Press.)
CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 20.—Two electric dredges, the A. McKenzie and the W. L. Marshall, said to be the first all-electric vessels of large size ever built, will be launched today at the yards of the San Shipbuilding and Drydock Company. They were built for harbor service by the engineers corps of the United States Army.

Average price twenty industrials $1.35, up 1/16; twenty rails $0.56, up 1/16; and 40 leading bonds $6.69 unchanged.

Laurel Electric Ships Today

(By The Associated Press.)
CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 20.—Two electric dredges, the A. McKenzie and the W. L. Marshall, said to be the first all-electric vessels of large size ever built, will be launched today at the yards of the San Shipbuilding and Drydock Company. They were built for harbor service by the engineers corps of the United States Army.

Average price twenty industrials $1.35, up 1/16; twenty rails $0.56, up 1/16; and 40 leading bonds $6.69 unchanged.

Disappears For Third Time

"Elusive Dorothy," the police call her. Her name is Dorothy Turner. Recently she escaped from the New Future Home in Pittsburg while authorities from the Delaware (O.) Industrial Home were on their way to Pittsburg to bring her back to the Ohio institution, whence she had escaped previously. Her first getaway, police say, was from the Columbus hospital, Columbus, O.

Letter supper tonight at Hotel Burton. 11-20R&B21

Make your preparations to eat at the Burton today. 11-20R&B21

Agreement On Plan Is Relief To Allies

Optimism Prevails as Compromise Formula for Dealing With Germany Is Accepted by All.

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, Nov. 20.—The meeting of the council of ambassadors called for five o'clock this afternoon will not be held it was announced shortly after 4 p. m. Lord Curzon, the British ambassador, notified his representative that his government, owing to stress of business was unable to communicate his instructions in time for today's meeting. The instructions are expected to arrive in season for a meeting tomorrow.

(By The Associated Press.)
PARIS, Nov. 20.—After six days of negotiations, four meetings and five adjournments, the ambassadors council has hit on a compromise formula for dealing with Germany, which, even if it only postpones the evil hour of decision as many maintain, at least postponed a break in the allied front.

The feeling here today was just as optimistic as it was pessimistic yesterday, for the agreement to send a note to Germany has been fully endorsed by the French and English cabinets and judging from the tone of London will be endorsed by the British.

It was believed here that the agreement on the proposed note in which the allies will demand that their military control officers shall be allowed to function under adequate protection, would be completed before the end of this afternoon.

The accepted plan of action seems to throw a considerable burden on General Nollet, head of the mission, who has been selected to make a further report on the whole situation. If, after a due interval, General Nollet is convinced that the Reich authorities are disloyal the ambassador's decisions, it is stated that the British government will agree to consider the application of penalties provided the terms of a non-territorial nature. This arrangement is regarded as at least good enough to furnish a basis for the continuance of the negotiations.

The qualified optimism which prevailed in official circles this morning as to the outcome of the government meeting was fortified by news from London received in diplomatic quarters and held to indicate there was no longer doubt that the ambassadors would agree on a text for the note to Germany which will momentarily leave the council.

There is marked skepticism, however, as to the effect of the note on the German government. The most important element of the situation which would remain unchanged by agreement among the entente powers and concerning which the government officials exercise great discretion, is that the split between France and Great Britain is considered to remain unbridled and that Germany is still able to count upon disagreements among the allies and in the French view, to speculate on encouragement from London to resist the payment of reparations.

The qualified optimism which prevailed in official circles this morning as to the outcome of the government meeting was fortified by news from London received in diplomatic quarters and held to indicate there was no longer doubt that the ambassadors would agree on a text for the note to Germany which will momentarily leave the council.

There is marked skepticism, however, as to the effect of the note on the German government. The most important element of the situation which would remain unchanged by agreement among the entente powers and concerning which the government officials exercise great discretion, is that the split between France and Great Britain is considered to remain unbridled and that Germany is still able to count upon disagreements among the allies and in the French view, to speculate on encouragement from London to resist the payment of reparations.

The qualified optimism which prevailed in official circles this morning as to the outcome of the government meeting was fortified by news from London received in diplomatic quarters and held to indicate there was no longer doubt that the ambassadors would agree on a text for the note to Germany which will momentarily leave the council.

There is marked skepticism, however, as to the effect of the note on the German government. The most important element of the situation which would remain unchanged by agreement among the entente powers and concerning which the government officials exercise great discretion, is that the split between France and Great Britain is considered to remain unbridled and that Germany is still able to count upon disagreements among the allies and in the French view, to speculate on encouragement from London to resist the payment of reparations.

The qualified optimism which prevailed in official circles this morning as to the outcome of the government meeting was fortified by news from London received in diplomatic quarters and held to indicate there was no longer doubt that the ambassadors would agree on a text for the note to Germany which will momentarily leave the council.

There is marked skepticism, however, as to the effect of the note on the German government. The most important element of the situation which would remain unchanged by agreement among the entente powers and concerning which the government officials exercise great discretion, is that the split between France and Great Britain is considered to remain unbridled and that Germany is still able to count upon disagreements among the allies and in the French view, to speculate on encouragement from London to resist the payment of reparations.

The qualified optimism which prevailed in official circles this morning as to the outcome of the government meeting was fortified by news from London received in diplomatic quarters and held to indicate there was no longer doubt that the ambassadors would agree on a text for the note to Germany which will momentarily leave the council.

There is marked skepticism, however, as to the effect of the note on the German government. The most important element of the situation which would remain unchanged by agreement among the entente powers and concerning which the government officials exercise great discretion, is that the split between France and Great Britain is considered to remain unbridled and that Germany is still able to count upon disagreements among the allies and in the French view, to speculate on encouragement from London to resist the payment of reparations.

The qualified optimism which prevailed in official circles this morning as to the outcome of the government meeting was fortified by news from London received in diplomatic quarters and held to indicate there was no longer doubt that the ambassadors would agree on a text for the note to Germany which will momentarily leave the council.

There is marked skepticism, however, as to the effect of the note on the German government. The most important element of the situation which would remain unchanged by agreement among the entente powers and concerning which the government officials exercise great discretion, is that the split between France and Great Britain is considered to remain unbridled and that Germany is still able to count upon disagreements among the allies and in the French view, to speculate on encouragement from London to resist the payment of reparations.

The qualified optimism which prevailed in official circles this morning as to the outcome of the government meeting was fortified by news from London received in diplomatic quarters and held to indicate there was no longer doubt that the ambassadors would agree on a text for the note to Germany which will momentarily leave the council.

There is marked skepticism, however, as to the effect of the note on the German government. The most important element of the situation which would remain unchanged by agreement among the entente powers and concerning which the government officials exercise great discretion, is that the split between France and Great Britain is considered to remain unbridled and that Germany is still able to count upon disagreements among the allies and in the French view, to speculate on encouragement from London to resist the payment of reparations.

The qualified optimism which prevailed in official circles this morning as to the outcome of the government meeting was fortified by news from London received in diplomatic quarters and held to indicate there was no longer doubt that the ambassadors would agree on a text for the note to Germany which will momentarily leave the council.

There is marked skepticism, however, as to the effect of the note on the German government. The most important element of the situation which would remain unchanged by agreement among the entente powers and concerning which the government officials exercise great discretion, is that the split between France and Great Britain is considered to remain unbridled and that Germany is still able to count upon disagreements among the allies and in the French view, to speculate on encouragement from London to resist the payment of reparations.

The qualified optimism which prevailed in official circles this morning as to the outcome of the government meeting was fortified by news from London received in diplomatic quarters and held to indicate there was no longer doubt that the ambassadors would agree on a text for the note to Germany which will momentarily leave the council.

Furniture Gifts That Make Home Hours Happier

THERE IS something not only intimate but precious about a gift of furniture. To the home it adds beauty and comfort, to the friend it brings joy and pleasure and a lasting remembrance of the person who gave it. And what a lovely feeling you get out of knowing that your kind thoughts will become permanent in the lives of your friends.

Our store is replete with such pieces of furniture as will make Home hours happier for the homemaker and her family.

The Maid's Gone But the Tea Cart's Here

YOU can't always depend upon your maid but you can always depend upon your Tea Cart. It's there to help out at the table and it's there when tea is served in the sun parlor.

In combination mahogany it makes a lovely gift.

$14.50 UP

Make Her Happy With One of Our Dining Sets This Thanksgiving

NEVER WAS there a better time than now to purchase the Dining Suit you need and have been wanting. Come, see what we have. And priced so reasonably, too.

10 pc. combination Walnut Suite, large Buffet, China Case, Closed Server, Extension Table, and six Chairs, seats covered in beautiful tapestry, finished a rich brown. Complete—

$185.00

To Please the Heart of a Woman

AND incidentally the heart of a man. For many a good dish will be prepared on this Kitchen Cabinet. It is all white enamel with porcelain work table, excellently constructed with every device necessary to make things easy and pleasant for the person who is going to use it.

$45.00

AROMATIC CEDAR CHESTS THE POPULAR GIFT

Numerous styles and sizes for selection, some period designs in Walnut and Mahogany exteriors; all well constructed and make ideal gifts. Priced from $16.50 UP

Shop early this Christmas. While the store is replete with gift items we advise early selections.

Start Your Christmas Shopping Now

Bledsoe Furniture Co

Start Your Christmas Shopping Now

Shop early this Christmas. While the store is replete with gift items we advise early selections.

Start Your Christmas Shopping Now

Shop early this Christmas. While the store is replete with gift items we advise early selections.

Start Your Christmas Shopping Now

Shop early this Christmas. While the store is replete with gift items we advise early selections.

SOCIETY NEWS CLUB ACTIVITIES AND PERSONAL

Woman's Interests

Household Children Cooking Fashion

MRS. F. L. DOUTCH
SOCIETY EDITOR

Office Phone No. 21
Residence Phone 706

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

OFFICE GIRLS TOO EAGER TO WED

The Tangle

Cake Contest and Bazaar.
The Second Circle of the Woman's Auxiliary of Epiphany Church will hold a cake contest and bazaar Tuesday, December 4th.

The cake will be made of Swansdown flour and a prize of $10.00 will be given for the best.

Meeting of Circle No. 8.
The Business Girls' Circle of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church held their regular monthly meeting and supper at the church yesterday evening at 8:30, with forty-five members present.

Following the supper reports of the conference in Richmond, which was held last week, were read by the returning delegates: Mrs. G. W. Chisholm, Mrs. W. T. Fowkes, Mrs. James Schellum, Mr. H. Skaggs, Mrs. Myrtle Lee gave a reading, bearing on missions.

Luncheon at Country Club.
C. C. Dula, of New York, a former resident of Danville, entertained a few of his Danville friends at luncheon at the country club yesterday.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Dula, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carrington, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Holcomb, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Duffler, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Pritchett, Mr. and Mrs. Hennie Patton, Mrs. Sallie Johnston Penn, Mrs. James C. Penn, Jr., J. E. Perkins, H. L. Boatwright, Mr. White, and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Dula.

Missionary Play.
Circle six of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church presented a program of entertainment Monday afternoon which was a rare treat to a large and appreciative audience.

The play, "Kanjunda," or "From Fear of the Enemy," by Helen Wilcox, was charmingly staged in the church school auditorium, presenting in very realistic manner the home and its surroundings, of a medical missionary and family at home in darkest Africa.

Around this scene centered the play in three acts. The taste was well

TO DARKEN HAIR
APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will produce a revelation of your hair's fading. Greasy or gray, mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Weyler's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready to use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyler's Sage and Sulphur Compound on one or two occasions it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—adv.

Good to the last drop

There is something about a man's humor that tells you on sight what kind of coffee he's had for breakfast.

MAXWELL HOUSE COFFEE

Just Arrived on D. & W. Truck, No. 7, Car Load of
GRAPEFRUIT TANGERINES ORANGES
Direct from our groves, having been blessed with a good crop, we are going to give the people of Danville the benefit. Price of Oranges, 65c per peck. Special prices to dealers.

chosen and each character was played with finished artistry. Special attention should be made of the parts played by Mrs. J. P. Craft, as the missionary's wife; Mrs. C. M. Mahan, as Kanjunda, Mrs. J. H. Park, as Mamba, the witch doctor; Miss Mary Thomas, as Miss Deming, a visitor to the family of the missionary. Every part was played in so forceful and convincing a manner, there was no doubt left in the mind of any as to the importance of the place occupied by medical missionaries.

The following is the program entire:

Mrs. Harvey, the Missionary wife.
Mrs. J. P. Craft, the Missionary.
Mrs. J. H. Park, the Missionary.
Mrs. C. M. Mahan, the Missionary.
Mrs. J. H. Park, the Missionary.
Mrs. C. M. Mahan, the Missionary.

Personal.
—Mrs. W. R. Toomey and Mrs. George Penn, are in Richmond.
—C. C. Dula of New York, is the guest of his brother, S. H. Dula.
—Mrs. E. W. Pugh, of Roanoke, N. C. is the guest of Mrs. J. N. Moore, Clarke Terrace, Main street.
—J. H. Dickerson and daughter, Mrs. O. S. Marchand, are attending the funeral of Walter D. Blair in South Boston today.

Mrs. S. P. Smith Dies at Hospital
Mrs. Sam P. Smith, wife of the city pump-house superintendent, died at four o'clock this morning at Edmunds Hospital where she had been ill for the past two weeks. She recently underwent an operation in the hope of improving her condition. She had been in a critical stage for the past few days. Mrs. Smith, who, before marriage was Miss Dora Hughes, was 33 years of age and was born in Alamance county. She had lived in Danville for the past thirty-nine years being married to Mr. Smith here in 1892. She was a consistent member of Mount Vernon Methodist church where she had worshipped for more than thirty years. She is survived by five children all of this city. Mrs. D. D. Newton, Mrs. P. E. Wynn, W. R. Smith, G. S. Smith and James F. Smith. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. T. E. Williams of Wilson, N. C. and Mrs. C. T. Richardson of Danville. Two brothers also survive, G. C. Hughes of Alamance county and C. W. Hughes of Danville, Illinois. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from Mount Vernon Methodist church and will be conducted by Rev. S. T. Senter.

Sharp Rally in Foreign Bills

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Overnight cable dispatches confirmed the reported agreement between the allies, which, at least, postpones a break between France and England over German policies, influenced another sharp rally in foreign bills at the opening of today's foreign exchange market.

Demand sterling, which jumped ten cents yesterday, only to recede partially at the close, again touched $4.36 more than three cents above yesterday's final quotations. Most of the continental exchanges also moved upward. Holland guilders displaying particular strength at 37.75 cents, a gain of 18 points over yesterday.

French francs improved 6 1/2 points to 52.25 cents.

Traders said today's market again was highly nervous.

Forty Airplanes to Make Long Flight

(By The Associated Press.)
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 20.—Forty airplanes, all manned by Naval aviators, will undertake a long and spectacular flight immediately after the close of maneuvers with the U. S. Battle Fleet in Caribbean waters next April. It is announced by Captain Albert Marshall, commander of the aircraft squadrons of the battle fleet.

Plans call for the aircraft to fly from the Gulf of Mexico to the Gulf of the West Indies and after touching Miami, Florida to split into two groups for an aerial tour of the very important city in the United States.

Run Criminals Out of New York

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The police department has issued an order that known criminals and persons who have been arrested and supported by the police for a long time be removed from the city. The order was issued after a conference of all police officers and the city who met to discuss the removal of criminals from the city.

By GEORGE BRITT
CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—All women office workers expect to get married in a year or two.

All men expect to get the boss' job. These are major obstacles to overcome in bringing "white collar workers" into the organized labor movement, according to Edward Hughes, secretary of the Chicago Office Employees' Union, the largest office workers' local in the country. Miss Marie Erhardt, his office secretary, is ready to verify the statement.

But are they downcast at the difficulty? They will tell the whole world "No."

They're Optimistic
With the promise of backing from the American Federation of Labor for a national extension campaign, they are looking forward to the day when the bookkeeper and the clerk shall drive down to work in a Rolls-Royce just the same as the janitor does.

Exaggerations aside, the campaign is to be waged this fall to develop the office workers' union into a serious factor in business instead of a mere vocal minority.

"Those two hopes in the hearts of men and women make it hard to arouse interest in unions," says Hughes. "The girls figure they are working only temporarily. The men fear anything which might antagonize the management and defer promotion. Then they think they have social superiority by being non-union."

"The squeezing which the office worker gets between manual labor and employers will bring him around to organization. The trades are unionized and are getting higher wages. The heads of business are organized and are getting larger profits. The cost of living soars. But the office worker, without effective protest, has to take what pay is offered."

City Hall Organized
"Most of our 1400 members in Chicago work in the city hall. About 300 are women. When the cost of living started up, the unorganized clerical force here asked for a raise. They couldn't even get a hearing from the finance committee. They don't get everything they ask now, of course, but they are listened to and conditions have improved."

The "white collar" unions at present have no national organization, but are directed by the American Federation of Labor. The plan of campaign is to enlarge the work in cities where there is already a foothold, seeking to unionize members of the party. The minister opined that the car was running heavily and that it looked to him like a "booby runner." The officers in the machine concurred. Familiar with the tactics of the modern boot-legger who usually runs with an empty pilot car ahead, the minister suggested letting the first of the two machines behind them to pass and this was done. No sooner had this Liza scudded the road on short notice and the heavily laden machine behind came to a stop with squeaking brakes. The driver of the curving car shot a quick glance behind him and found he was sandwiched in a trap the second Ford having caught up and being an effective barrier for an escape to the rear. The two men in the Studebaker car, which bore North Carolina license No. 158-093 submitted to a search without protest. The liquor was found and the two men submitted to arrest. Some of the officers climbed into the captured car and the minister taking the wheel continued the journey to Danville.

On the journey the minister took the occasion to lecture the two prisoners on the ethics of law enforcement and exhorted them with scriptural admonitions about the way of the sinner being hard. "He begged me not to talk that way," Rev. Mr. Williams said "and broke down and cried when I told him that liquor will ruin any man sooner or later."

Officers in the party expressed the belief that the liquor came from Mountain Valley but they would not give any definite information bearing on this point. Mr. Martin said:

"Over There" at Majestic Theater Is Well Received

"Over There," a playlet depicting army life in France from a humorous standpoint, last night won hearty approval by the overflow audience at the Majestic Theater. The program, one filled with comedy from start to finish, is presented by a capable theatrical company under the management of Walter Wright and Roy Justice.

The bill last night made such a hit that instead of changing the program on Wednesday as is the custom, "Over There" will be seen again Wednesday and Thursday, by popular request.

The playlet is designed especially for rushing purposes. It deals with army life abroad not from a fighting or a serious standpoint but with a combination of humorous incidents typical of this life. Roy Justice is a such private and he proved last night that he is a comedian who might command a higher place before the gods.

He is original and natural in his comedy and for this reason, is "lucky." His dealings with the "hard-boiled" sergeant afford a continuous program of mirth. The bill is not intended for musical purposes and therefore there are few musical numbers but the few were heartily applauded. Edwin Grimes with his "one man band" proved a real entertainer. As a whole, the show is well worth seeing by persons who have a desire for something different.

MARIE ERHART, OFFICE SECRETARY TO EDWARD HUGHES (IN INSET), SECRETARY CHICAGO OFFICE EMPLOYEES' UNION.

Erhardt, "when the young man going to see his girl will have to show his card—not visiting, but union."

And the day is coming," says Miss

Crocker's Children Win a Victory In Will Contest

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The first Crocker, late Tammany chieftain, who victory for the children of Richard have engaged his widow and their step-mother, Mrs. Bula Crocker, in four contests over the will of their father, was gained yesterday.

A jury took but thirty minutes to decide the children were entitled to $160,000 which Richard Crocker, Jr., who brought the suit, claimed his father agreed to "divide" share for share between his "sister" Ethel and brother Howard, constitutional on Richard's ceding to Howard his share of the estate of their mother.

Mrs. Crocker smilingly remarked after the verdict that "the score is now three to one" referring to three previous suits which she had won.

She said, "but it isn't over yet."

Schooner With Aliens and Booze Seized Off Coast

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The Cuban schooner Yrida, with 21 aliens and a quantity of liquor aboard, was seized last night by the coast guard cutter Cossack, according to advances to Coast Guard headquarters today. The schooner and a tons and liquor were taken to Key West where they were turned over to the proper authorities.

Extend Time Limit a Year

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—An extension of one year during which World War officers are eligible for appointment without examination to the officers reserve corps was authorized today by Secretary Weeks. The time limit fixed on this class of appointments expired November 11, but before the present ruling will be continued until Armistice Day, 1924.

The Tangle

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT, CONTINUED

I wonder if back in your time, little Maradise, there were women who went out of their way to plant suspicion in your mind or a hurt in your heart and I wonder if they looked like Mrs. Smithson. She is tall and thin, as if the milk of human kindness had absolutely dried up in her veins. Her mouth is almost a cruel slit and her chin comes out and is always a little red and pointed. Her eyes are narrow and about them are little crow's feet, not the crow's feet that you see around the eyes of a jolly, laughing woman, but the long, narrow ones that reach back to the temple and are accompanied habitually by two perpendicular lines over the nose.

It always seems to me when I see Mrs. Smithson that it hurts her to smile, and yet only to you would I draw such an unflattering picture, because in her way she has always been nice to me. Since I have been ill she has sent me over some delicate custard and one day she made a freezer of egg-nog ice cream simply so that I could have some of it.

Jack, who dislikes her very much, insists that this isn't kindness, but a species of patronage, a kind of sop to her own vanity. I wonder which of us is right.

When she came forward to shake my hand, she had a kind of peculiar look upon her face that I had never seen there before. An expression which partook of triumph and sorrow, pity and virtuous condemnation. (Now you know, little Maradise, if I would make any such fanciful description as that to anyone but you, he would say I had suddenly gone crazy.) But I still contend that is just the way she looked and that look was born out of thoughts she did not voice, but which she implied.

"That picture, 'Trumping His Heart,' I told you about last week. Mrs. Prescott, has been the most popular one that has been shown here for many a day." This was her first exclamation. "It is going to be here for still another week and I do hope you are going to be able to see it. I have been four times, and I saw your husband there all alone the other evening. Did he say anything to you about it?"

"Not a word, but my friend, Ruth Ellington, who has just arrived from New York, wrote me while she was there that she had seen the picture and it was extremely interesting."

"Did she tell you anything about it?"

"No, she said it was too long a story to write when she was so busy and that she would tell me about it when she got home."

"One reason I think the picture has caught on to such an extent here is because the Perrier girl, who plays the principal part and who is said to have helped the authoress in the writing of the play, used to live here. Every man in town I think knew her. She was a model, you know, and called very beautiful. I never could see very much in her, but her husband seemed to think she was about the prettiest girl he ever saw. I must say she shows up well in pictures."

"By the way, I think your husband knew her. Have you ever asked him about her?"

"My husband told me once, Mrs. Smithson, that the young lady had been a model for him in some of his advertising illustrations, but I was not curious at all. I expect if you saw him there alone it was because he had gone to see if she had changed. I know he would be very glad to find that she was making a success in her new profession."

"Very likely."

Because those words are written on paper, little Maradise, you will never know how nasty they sounded from that odious woman's lips. (Copyright, 1923, NEA Service, Inc.)

TOMORROW: The private letter continued—If the case were reversed.

"Annabelle"
floats out with melody and rhythm as played by Ted Lewis and His Band in fox-trot tempo.

Columbia
New Process RECORDS
Columbia Phonograph Co.

Mother!

Child's Best Laxative is "California Fig Syrup"

Hurry Mother! Even constipated, bilious, feverish, or sick, colic babies and children love to take genuine "California Fig Syrup." No other laxative regulars the tender little bowels so nicely. It sweetens the stomach and starts the liver and bowels without griping. Contains no narcotics or soothing drugs. Say "California" to your druggist and avoid counterfeits. Insist upon genuine "California Fig Syrup" which contains directions.—adv.

Tiny tarts with jelly set—Pies and puddings—don't forget!

FOR THANKSGIVING? Pumpkin pie—of course. The family expect it. Pumpkin pie is the national dessert for the national holiday.

And REAL pumpkin pie! Nicely browned—the rich, aromatic flavor of pumpkin and tangy spices—flaky undercrust—hot or cold—a wedge of delicious savor.

You'll be popular in the family circle when the dessert comes 'round on Thanksgiving. The recipe below is recommended by a woman who prides herself on her pumpkin pie. Try it.

PUMPKIN PIE
1 1/2 c. steamed and strained pumpkin
1/4 c. syrup
1/2 c. brown sugar
1 beaten egg
1/2 ts. salt
1/2 ts. ginger
1/2 ts. cinnamon
2 c. milk or 1 1/2 c. milk and 1/2 c. cream
Mix ingredients in order given, bake until firm in a tin, lined with plain pastry.

Recipe for Plain Pastry:
2 c. sifted flour
1 level ts. Davis Baking Powder
1/2 ts. salt
1/4 c. butter
1/4 c. lard
about 1/2 c. ice water

Combine all dry materials and sift. Rub in lard with finger tips add ice water, place on floured board and knead once or twice. Roll out with strokes away from edge of board; turn dough, fold over; roll and repeat. Place in pie tin, trimming edges and pressing down on rim of plate.

Bake it BEST with DAVIS BAKING POWDER

EVERY INGREDIENT OFFICIALLY APPROVED BY U. S. FOOD AUTHORITIES

NEW MEAT MARKET

All Kinds Fresh and Cured Meats
Give Us a Trial—Your Business Will be Appreciated
BRACKIN BROTHERS
FIVE FORKS PHONE 2181

POSTOFFICE ROBBERS SENTENCED TO PRISON
(By The Associated Press)
NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 19.—J. McNully and Charles Ryan were convicted in federal court today for robbery of the postoffice at Albemarle, Virginia, last April. Ryan was sentenced to four years and six months in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, and McNully, who at present is serving a three year term for robbery of a branch of the Norfolk and Western bank, was sentenced to four years in addition to his term in the federal prison.

More waltzes and better service at the Burton.
11-2018&B21

Prevent Chills build resistance with SCOTT'S EMULSION
the rich, strength-building food- tonic. It merits through and through. Try it!
Scott & Bowser, Bloomfield, N. J. 25-58

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to wonder why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to such testimonials and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, correcting uric acid troubles and neutralizing the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—adv.

DON'T WAIT TILL YOU'RE DOWN SICK

THE minute you begin to feel little under the weather and little things tire and worry you, get a bottle of Gude's Pepto-Mangan and begin to take it. Don't wait till you're down sick. Take Gude's as a preventive of illness—let it fortify your system, enrich your blood, and build up your energy. That's the way to ward off illness before it gets its grip on you. Your druggist has Gude's, in both liquid and tablet form.

Free Trial Tablets To see for yourself the health-building value of Gude's Pepto-Mangan send for our free Trial Package of Tablets. Send no money—just your name and address to M. J. Breitenbach Co., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Tonic and Blood Enricher

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Bromo Quinine tablets Laxative
The tonic and laxative effect of Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets will fortify the system against influenza and other serious ills resulting from a Cold.
The box bears this signature E. H. Groves
Price 50c.

WOMAN'S HAIR GROWS 8 INCHES
Tells How Queen Hair Dressing Made it Smooth and Silky.

DR. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS
DRIVE out the body poisons. Keep well. Keep the system active. Relieve constipation. Used for over Fifty Years.
Favorable For Fifty Years
66c (25c)
Get it at your druggist or write to Dr. Morse, 2500 N. 1st St., St. Paul, Minn.

Sherwood Anderson Expresses Life

DEAN REVIEWS
Horses and Men by Sherwood Anderson (Huebsch).

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Sherwood Anderson stands in the same light with Theodore Dreiser to whom he makes a graceful dedication in the dedication of his latest book, "Horses and Men." Both write daringly. Both have the courage of their convictions. However, it seems to this reader that both at times seem a bit hazy about their convictions.

SHERWOOD ANDERSON.

Thus we find that in "Horses and Men," a volume of short stories, Anderson places the responsibility for his attitudes and interpretations on a third person. Someone else tells him a story and he repeats it, thickly venturing a few surmises of his own, but drawing no conclusions.

It seems that Anderson after all doesn't quite understand what life is all about. He is revealed as one of the humblest of men, and, strange to say, there is an impression pretty generally abroad that he is an egotist!

All of us are apt to confuse courage and egotism. Anderson does possess courage. He sets down exactly what he sees in life, even though he doesn't understand it. If he were arrogant he would profess he understood.

egoistical than he.

Whenever a reviewer of books or plays makes a positive statement he finds before long that he must recant. It was not long ago that I said Fannie Hurst could set down dialogue truer to life than any other American writer. After reading "I'm a Fool," one of the tales in "Horses and Men," I am not so sure about that. I also began to doubt my judgment after reading "Undertow," by Henry L. Marks.

"I'm a Fool" is the story of a former horse-swap who had a few drinks and went to the fairgrounds to see a race, feeling high-and-mighty as he sat in the grandstand. There he brushed up an acquaintance with a young fellow and his sister and sweet-heart.

When he took a seat with them he was very conscious of the liquor on his breath, "because that girl wasn't a nut of a girl. What would I have given right then for a stick of gum to chew, or a lozenge, or some floorice, or most anything. I was glad I had those 25-cent cigars in my pocket and went away I gave that fellow a kick and lit one myself."

There I was plunked right down beside her. "I suppose it was their having such swell names got me off my trolley. A fellow, just because he has been a swine with a racehorse, and works taking care of horses for a man in the team, and then he goes and does a business, isn't any better or any worse than anyone else. I often thought that, and said it, too."

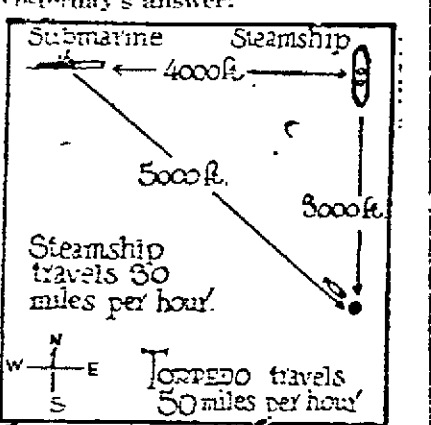

"I was with the two girls, and when that Miss Woodbury was looking the other way once, Lucy Wessen kind, hit her shoulder, you know, kind, touched me. Not just tucking down, I don't mean. You know how a woman can do. They get close, but not getting gay, either. You know what they do. Gee whizz."

"She wasn't struck on me because of the life about my father being rich and all that. There's a way you know. Craps alright! There's a kind of a girl, you see just once in your life, and if you don't get busy and make hay, then you're gone for good, and might as well go jump off a bridge. They give you a look from the corner of their eyes, and you're vamping, and what means is—you want the girl to be your wife, and you want nice things around her like flowers and swell clothes, and you want her to have the kids you're going to have, and you want good music played and no ragtime."

Anderson is at least the equal of Fannie Hurst and Henry Marks in reproducing the American idiom of expression.

DAILY PUZZLE

XMOOT
John and Bill were trying to decipher the mysterious word "XMOOT." "I have it," cried John. "X is the Roman numeral for ten; and 100 in Roman numerals is C. So we have 10 C's, which stands for TENACITY!" John's answer is good, but Bill had one that was exact. Can you discover it?

If a steamer, 4000 feet distant from a submarine, in an easterly direction, travels 2609 feet south, at 30 miles an hour, a torpedo must travel 5000 feet at 50 miles an hour to strike the bow of the steamer.

The torpedo follows the hypotenuse of a right triangle, the square of which is 4000 squared plus 2609 squared, equal to the square of the other two sides: 4000 is 4 plus 40, or 16, total 25. Since the torpedo goes 5000 feet to the steamer's bow, their relative speeds are 50 to 30.

MAYOR YOUELL IS RE-ELECTED

(By The Associated Press)
RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 19.—The State Election Board today re-elected Mayor R. M. Yoell as superintendent of the Virginia penitentiary. Dr. Herbert Mann, prison surgeon, was also re-elected.

R. R. Penn, superintendent, and Dr. Thomas M. Taylor, surgeon, were chosen as members of the board of directors in these offices at the state farm.

Superintendents and heads of departments submitted their reports to the board on the record of the past two years.

DR. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS
DRIVE out the body poisons. Keep well. Keep the system active. Relieve constipation. Used for over Fifty Years.
Favorable For Fifty Years
66c (25c)
Get it at your druggist or write to Dr. Morse, 2500 N. 1st St., St. Paul, Minn.

BOY SERIOUSLY SHOT AS RESULT FRIENDLY DUEL

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
STURGIS, Mich., Nov. 19.—With a possible fatal bullet wound in his abdomen, Warren Webb, 16-year-old Colon boy, is dying in a hospital here as the result of a dueling contest in which he engaged with his chum Raymond Franks, also 16 years old. The two boys had been reading stories in which duels between medieval knights figured. Seeking something of the same thrills, they placed two pistols on a table in a room at the home of Webb's father, then each backed to the wall nearest his side of the table. On a signal agreed upon in advance the two rushed to the table, grabbed for one of the pistols and fired into the air. The one whose pistol discharged first was declared the winner of the duel.

In his haste to beat out his chum, Franks nervously pulled the trigger before he had raised the muzzle to the necessary height and the bullet lodged in the other's stomach. At the hospital it was said the boy had better than an even chance to live.

TOMB IS REOPENED.

LUXOR, Egypt, Nov. 19.—Work on the tomb of Tutankhamen was restarted today. The final preparations having been completed, Howard Carter, head of the expedition since the death of the earl of Carnarvon, removed the outer woodwork and opened the iron gates, permitting entry into the passage leading to the ante-chamber, which last season was cleared of its royal treasures.

WEATHER

Virginia: Fair Tuesday and Wednesday; warmer.

NR TO-NIGHT
To Give an overcast and tired system a bright tomorrow is the work of NR tablets. Nature's Remedy keeps body functions regular, improves appetite, relieves constipation. Used for over 30 years.
Chips off the Old Block
NR JUNIORS—Little NRs
One-third as regular as NRs. Made of same ingredients, then candy coated. For children and adults.

RADIO BROADCASTING NEWS

TUESDAY, NOV. 20TH.
Home—Major William La Barba
Fox trots.
"Ed Rather Fox Trot Than Waltz"
"My Willow and Me"
"The Moonlight Serenaders"
Address: "Alpine Passenger Travel in Europe"
Charles M. Hupley of the General Electric Company.
Waltzes.
"On a Moonlight Night"
"Thru Virginia Way"
"The Moonlight Serenaders" Baritone solo, "Drift Along"
William La Barba
Fox trots.
"Some Little Girl"
"Dambadina"
"The Moonlight Serenaders"
"The Moonlight Serenaders"
"The Moonlight Serenaders"

STATION "WAZ" BROADCAST CENTRAL, 33 West 42nd St., New York City. 660 Kilocycles 455 Meters

TUESDAY, NOV. 20TH.
6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner concert by the Grand Symphony orchestra from the Million Dollar Grand Theater, Pittsburgh, Pa.
7:30 p. m.—Feature.
7:45 p. m.—The Childrens Period.
8:15 p. m.—National Stockman and Farmer Market News.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Rev. John Ewers, on his recent European tour.
8:30 p. m.—Miss Amanda Verbieler presents her students in a recital: Carl Bernthaler, accompanist.
9:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals. Weather forecast.

Dying Child Is Evicted By New Jersey Boarding House Keeper

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 20.—The white pearl beauty of death has crept over the skin of the little girl who, in her dying hours, was evicted from her home by the boarding house keeper at No. 417 Linden street. The mother of Helen Hamilton, doomed to die, perhaps before tomorrow, made her look, as she lay unconscious against a high background of pillows, like the life sister of the waxen doll that sat up, a counterpart in miniature, at her feet.

The terror of dying in the dark brown boarding house of Mrs. Maggie Rogers, who, with her husband, Joe, ordered Mrs. Lucy Hamilton and her half-conscious child from their room, has been robbed of its somberness by a stout little "Pennsylvania Dutch" woman, Mrs. May Schock of No. 495 North Fourth street. Mrs. Schock is one of those bustling little figures that abound in this neighborhood where Dutch stock and Dutch cleanliness have been related since Washington crossed the Delaware and made 1,000 Hessians citizens.

She has for a month been running back and forth to help the mother of little Helen, carrying broth and smiles and an ample bosom on which Helen has cried in the agony which her ruptured heart shoots through her frail little breast.

Mrs. Schock to the Rescue
Yesterday when Mrs. Rogers told Mrs. Hamilton to "Get out of my house with your dying child," Mrs. Schock was the American Red Cross wrapped in one person.

She gathered up Mrs. Hamilton's meagre possessions, and the mother, terror-stricken at the thought of leaving and killing her daughter, picked up Helen.

It was a hundred-yard carry. Helen, aroused by the violence, cried out, "Mother, mother, it hurts me so." "There, there, baby," said the mother, her face streaked with tears. "It's only a minute; mother won't hurt her baby."

They brought Helen into the shining little room at the house of Mrs. Schock, who had evicted a boarder to put this dying child at rest and given the evicted man her own room.

"Wouldn't any one, any one with a heart do it?" asked Mrs. Schock, simply. "The little girl cried for me, and when I came into her room last night at midnight she put her head on my shoulder and tried to sing 'Jesus walked with me and talked with me,' and then she asked: 'Will I meet you with Jesus? If I die here will it make too much trouble for you? I could be buried from the Tabernacle where Mr. Lord preaches.'"

"Can you imagine that?" asked Mrs. Schock. "Too much trouble, and she a child, taking that way?"

Child in a Stupor
All today the little house of the little stout woman has been a mecca for men and women touched by this tiny tragedy in the big world. A constant stream of persons from Pittman, N. J., from West Philadelphia, called roses and apples and lots of jelly. Through it all Helen lay in a stupor, her worst day since she was taken ill. She lay upon her pillow, half upright, her head thrown back, her slender arm aglitter with the gold wrist watch given her by newspaper men. A golden bracelet lay upon her other arm and a ring no longer fitting her thin, white finger.

Mrs. Hamilton hovered about the child constantly. Helen, in a delirium kept crying for "pictures." The mother soothed her and patted her forehead.

This woman is one of those un-lucky creatures. Born in Belvidere, N. C., she once owned a hotel in Norfolk, Va., where Helen was born. She was forced to sell the hotel when Helen was sick with cholera infantum. Her money went in dribbles. She wandered about the country sewing for a living nursing other women's children collecting advertisements and money for a newspaper in Wildwood, N. J. Her face is marked by the pressure of misery. Her lips are shrunken into a straight thin line—the lips of a woman who is always expecting to be struck.

As for Mrs. Maggie Rogers, wife of the landlord who evicted this dying child, she at least was at peace today.

HEAVY TOBACCO SALES MADE IN ROCKY MOUNT

ROCKY MOUNT, Nov. 19.—Tobacco sales to date on the local market have amounted to 11,348,255 pounds which brought a total of $2,353,739.73, according to official figures obtained from the Rocky Mount tobacco board of trade this morning.

During the week which ended yesterday sales on the Rocky Mount market totaled 1,625,716 pounds. These offerings sold for a total of $346,236.69 which represented an average for the week of 21.25 cents per pound.

They brought Helen into the shining little room at the house of Mrs. Schock, who had evicted a boarder to put this dying child at rest and given the evicted man her own room.

"Wouldn't any one, any one with a heart do it?" asked Mrs. Schock, simply. "The little girl cried for me, and when I came into her room last night at midnight she put her head on my shoulder and tried to sing 'Jesus walked with me and talked with me,' and then she asked: 'Will I meet you with Jesus? If I die here will it make too much trouble for you? I could be buried from the Tabernacle where Mr. Lord preaches.'"

"Can you imagine that?" asked Mrs. Schock. "Too much trouble, and she a child, taking that way?"

Child in a Stupor
All today the little house of the little stout woman has been a mecca for men and women touched by this tiny tragedy in the big world. A constant stream of persons from Pittman, N. J., from West Philadelphia, called roses and apples and lots of jelly. Through it all Helen lay in a stupor, her worst day since she was taken ill. She lay upon her pillow, half upright, her head thrown back, her slender arm aglitter with the gold wrist watch given her by newspaper men. A golden bracelet lay upon her other arm and a ring no longer fitting her thin, white finger.

Mrs. Hamilton hovered about the child constantly. Helen, in a delirium kept crying for "pictures." The mother soothed her and patted her forehead.

This woman is one of those un-lucky creatures. Born in Belvidere, N. C., she once owned a hotel in Norfolk, Va., where Helen was born. She was forced to sell the hotel when Helen was sick with cholera infantum. Her money went in dribbles. She wandered about the country sewing for a living nursing other women's children collecting advertisements and money for a newspaper in Wildwood, N. J. Her face is marked by the pressure of misery. Her lips are shrunken into a straight thin line—the lips of a woman who is always expecting to be struck.

As for Mrs. Maggie Rogers, wife of the landlord who evicted this dying child, she at least was at peace today.

They brought Helen into the shining little room at the house of Mrs. Schock, who had evicted a boarder to put this dying child at rest and given the evicted man her own room.

"Wouldn't any one, any one with a heart do it?" asked Mrs. Schock, simply. "The little girl cried for me, and when I came into her room last night at midnight she put her head on my shoulder and tried to sing 'Jesus walked with me and talked with me,' and then she asked: 'Will I meet you with Jesus? If I die here will it make too much trouble for you? I could be buried from the Tabernacle where Mr. Lord preaches.'"

"Can you imagine that?" asked Mrs. Schock. "Too much trouble, and she a child, taking that way?"

Child in a Stupor
All today the little house of the little stout woman has been a mecca for men and women touched by this tiny tragedy in the big world. A constant stream of persons from Pittman, N. J., from West Philadelphia, called roses and apples and lots of jelly. Through it all Helen lay in a stupor, her worst day since she was taken ill. She lay upon her pillow, half upright, her head thrown back, her slender arm aglitter with the gold wrist watch given her by newspaper men. A golden bracelet lay upon her other arm and a ring no longer fitting her thin, white finger.

Mrs. Hamilton hovered about the child constantly. Helen, in a delirium kept crying for "pictures." The mother soothed her and patted her forehead.

This woman is one of those un-lucky creatures. Born in Belvidere, N. C., she once owned a hotel in Norfolk, Va., where Helen was born. She was forced to sell the hotel when Helen was sick with cholera infantum. Her money went in dribbles. She wandered about the country sewing for a living nursing other women's children collecting advertisements and money for a newspaper in Wildwood, N. J. Her face is marked by the pressure of misery. Her lips are shrunken into a straight thin line—the lips of a woman who is always expecting to be struck.

As for Mrs. Maggie Rogers, wife of the landlord who evicted this dying child, she at least was at peace today.

They brought Helen into the shining little room at the house of Mrs. Schock, who had evicted a boarder to put this dying child at rest and given the evicted man her own room.

"Wouldn't any one, any one with a heart do it?" asked Mrs. Schock, simply. "The little girl cried for me, and when I came into her room last night at midnight she put her head on my shoulder and tried to sing 'Jesus walked with me and talked with me,' and then she asked: 'Will I meet you with Jesus? If I die here will it make too much trouble for you? I could be buried from the Tabernacle where Mr. Lord preaches.'"

"Can you imagine that?" asked Mrs. Schock. "Too much trouble, and she a child, taking that way?"

Child in a Stupor
All today the little house of the little stout woman has been a mecca for men and women touched by this tiny tragedy in the big world. A constant stream of persons from Pittman, N. J., from West Philadelphia, called roses and apples and lots of jelly. Through it all

The Bee

Published Every Week-Day Afternoon

ROBERT A. JAMES, JR.,
Owner and Publisher

TELEPHONE: 111
Business or Circulation Dept. No. 21
Editor or Reporter No. 335

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
THE BEE in the City and Suburbs is served by carrier, on their regular route at 10c and 12c a week and sold by news boys at two cents a copy.
THE BEE by mail, $4.50 a year; $2.25 six months; $1.15 three months, or 4c a month, payable in advance.
NOTICE: The above rates apply only to postal zones 1, 2 and 3. Rates beyond 3rd zone given on request.
Notice is mailed before expiration. Subscribers should give prompt attention to renewals.

Member of The Associated Press
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

NATIONAL ADV. REPRESENTATIVE
CHARLES H. REDDY CO.
New York 247 Park Avenue
Chicago 401 South Dear St.
Boston 100 South St.
SOUTHERN ADV. REPRESENTATIVE
GEORGE M. KOHN, Inc.
Atlanta, Ga. Walton Bldg.
Entered at Danville, Va., Postoffice as second-class mail matter.
person or institution feeling personally aggrieved by any advertisement in these columns space will be accorded any columns.

A THOUGHT

See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.—1 Thess. 5:15.

Never let a man imagine that he can pursue a good end by evil means, without sinning against his own soul. The evil effect on himself is certain.—Southey.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1923.

SAY IT WITH SCRATCHES

Nathaniel Rothschild who spurned the opportunity of achieving world greatness by becoming identified with the famous Rothschild financial interests in Europe and who took to the collecting of fleas has just donated his remarkable exhibit to the British Museum. There are several thousand of these fleas preserved in bottles and they are said to have cost the donor a staggering sum. Mr. Rothschild reached the highest point of flea enthusiasm by financing an expedition to the Arctic circle for the sole purpose of bring back in captivity the kind of flea that makes the night restless for the cumbersome seal. It was an amphibious flea and it was successfully taken and took its place in the millionaire's army of irritants. We are not told in despatches which emphasize the gratitude of the British Museum in securing this novel collection, the most interesting point in this fabulous story—just what prompted Mr. Rothschild to devote his life to the study of the pulex irritans. Probably his late lamented father would have liked to know too, for it is recorded that paternal chagrin made itself manifest on several occasions over his son's strange bent. He had hoped that he would carry on the fortunes of the House of Rothschild—the largest financial institution of its kind at one time. Public curiosity over this extraordinary devotion to the well known insect will remain unsatisfied for the present. The world will have to check its impatience and be content to survey this strange human contradiction—a man who devoted his life to the infinitesimal insect, the bane of human and animal flesh alike.

SCOOP'S COLYUM

DRAKES BRANCH, Nov. 20.—(Grapevine Wireless).—The late P. T. Barnum got a lot of fun out of a joke. His whole career was studied with instances in which he indulged this propensity. A short time before his death he summoned his lawyer to the side of his couch where he was lying. "I am worried," he said, "about a certain matter and I want to consult you. My neighbor keeps peacocks. Suppose some of them should fly over into my yard, which they are doing all the time, and lay some eggs here. Would those eggs belong to me or could my neighbor compel me to give them up?" The lawyer, having duly scratched his head, and looking wise, answered: "Well, Mr. Barnum, I must have time to look into this matter. But the best thing for you to do would be to keep the eggs and let your neighbor sue for their possession. In that way your rights would be determined and we should have a valuable test case."

"Well," mused Mr. Barnum, "while you are looking into the matter will you find out how it would be if the eggs were laid by peacocks?" The lawyer swore softly to himself, but never made any investigation.

Our National Birds.
THE AMERICAN EAGLE
THE THANKSGIVING TURKEY
May one give us peace in all our states!
And the other a piece for all our plates!
(It Won't Be Long Now!)

Some has meat and cannot eat.
And some want meat who want it.
But we has meat and we can eat.
So let the Lord be thanked.
—Burns.

Sweet Daddy!
"Here's champagne to our real friends, And real pain to our sham friends."

Another Definition.
"Love is an emotion inspired by one of the opposite sex through which we feel drawn into a higher or happier sphere of life."

The Banana is Doomed.
Something is to be done about the dearth of bananas explained with syncope. The vociferous refrain of song pluggers has borne fruit. Nearly every one down in the El Bule district of Oaxaca, Mexico, is growing bananas. Considering the large number of trees planted, it is estimated that production should increase from 200,000 to 300,000 tons of fruit in the next few years, says our commercial attaché at Mexico City.

The banana, it seems, is delicate and easily discouraged with life in this world. In its impressionable youth it is exposed to thielavibasiola, and things like that. If the thielavibasiola gets a good grip it's all up with the banana. But diseases with hard names do not deter the growers, and they are fighting the fungus enemies of the fruit with fire. By their works we shall know the fruit of their victory. An army with bananas! That is the right to make those song writers change their tune!—The Nation's Business.

"Who's that guy you were talking so nice to?"
"Aw, that's my old family drug-gist."

"What did he say?"
"No!"

Circumstantial Evidence.
Bobby: Awfully sorry, baby, but I must put some jam on your face, so as mother'll think you stole it. You see you won't get licked for it and I would.

A young man writes to us, asking whether we would advise him to get married on $50 a week. Inasmuch as we have no special grudge against him we would not.

Doctor—Did that medicine straighten your husband out all right?
"Wife—Yes, we buried him yesterday."

The old-fashioned girl, says Col. Watkins, who longed to become a missionary to benighted heathen in foreign lands now has a daughter who frequently goes out and makes a lively competence teaching her staid house to clean up the neighborhood women at auction bridge and mah jong.

Henry Ford has an income of something like $9,736 per minute, thus making the counterfeiter look dumber than ever. Nobody else was ever able to figure out a way to make so much money out of tin.

Joey Doolittle says the highest compliment that can be paid any

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By Stanley

GIT FER HOME BRUNO!

NEVER MIND WE'VE GOT IT UNDER CONTROL

SERVES HIM RIGHT A PIPE SMOKER IS A MENACE TO SOCIETY!!!

YOU SAY SHE'S MAKIN' TH' PIPE SMOKERS WALK THE CHALK?

NO-NO-I SAY SHE JUST LIKES TO HEAR HERSELF TALK

HANK HORNER, AN INVETERATE PIPE SMOKER, ACCIDENTLY BUMPED INTO AUNT SARAH PEABODY LEADER OF THE CAMPAIGN AGAINST TOBACCO — HE HURRIEDLY STUFFED HIS LIGHTED PIPE INTO HIS HIP POCKET —

REDUCTION IN RATES

ATLANTA, Nov. 19.—Substantial reductions in intrastate freight rates are now in effect in Georgia as a result of an order by the state public service commission. Iron, sugar and cotton are commodities particularly affected.

Do you know a man who smokes a pipe? A million new customers for matches for Christmas would suit him.

Even the goldfish should have their Christmas. Read them all about what a hard time other fish have.

Now comes the pest
Who stirs our wrath
By bragging 'bout
His ice-cold bath.

He also boasts,
It will be found,
He wears the same
The whole year round.

He is the bird
That oft has told
A sleeping porch
Would cure a cold.

Fur coats will be worn longer this year. Pants will be worn longer by the husbands who buy the coats.

Philo of Rondo says "Gee, I'm the hard luck guy. I was twenty-one yesterday and caught my fourth case of seven years itch today."

They say a woman's face is her fortune. That explains why the drug stores prosper, opine Charlie Craven.

Reading about the proposed law to test the minds of automobile drivers, a Danville man would like to know if Ford drivers will be included.

Albert Hall says the reason children are happier than grown-ups is because nothing has happened to shake their self-respect.

Some folks have so little musical talent that the only way they could carry a tune would be to note a photograph while it was playing.

Life grows more complex every day. Now to be in style one must be born in a maternity hospital and buried in a mortuary church.

The curves of another man's wife may delight him but he wants his own wife square, grins Gladys.

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania announced that the cost of the higher wage scale for miners must not be passed on to the public. If you want a good laugh and a headache at the same time, ask your local dealer the price of anthracite coal.

We know one speed demon who loves to drive an elevator. For the simple reason that nobody can pass him.

ALASKA WOULD SPLIT

Alaska, with the area of an empire and a population smaller than that of a small city, has voted to separate the southeastern portion of the territory from the rest. Returns from six of eight cities showed 1,254 in favor of the division and 89 opposed. In any other part of the United States, such a small total of votes would mean nothing. In Alaska, the majority in favor of division could not be overcome by the remaining votes. The Alaskans favoring separation will hold a convention to memorialize congress for two territorial governments. The ultimate hope is the admission of two or more new states. A distinguished Texan had a similar idea some years ago. He proposed the division of his state into seven states, hoping thereby to gain for his fellow Texans 12 members in the United States senate. His proposition faced constitutional barriers and opposition from other sections of the country. But he did not need to go outside his state to lose. The Texans themselves, proud of their great state, were bitterly averse over the idea of division. The statesman who proposed the plan was badly beaten when he ventured to present his candidacy to the voters of the state.

Alaska's problem is one of better government rather than one of more governments.

TAX TRUTH WILL NOT DOWN

All good Democrats will read with joy and confidence the promise of the Republican administration to bring down the cost of living by reducing the income tax rates.

Democrats have been arguing for many years that taxes and tariffs in-

THE REFERENCE

By ALBERT APPLE

WINTER
A severe winter is predicted by New England settlers, because potatoes are exceptionally fat. It's kept them warm and serve as emergency food in bitter weather.

On the other hand, word comes from Canada that a mild and open winter is predicted by Ojibwa and Algonquin Indians, because squirrels have not been storing many nuts.

Maybe they're both right. Winter may be stonny. We're not yet out of the period of freakish weather, though the sun is believed to have recovered to normal in amount of heat it sends us.

SWEET
The proposed soldier bonus could be entirely taken care of by a tax of 2 cents a pound on sugar. So claims the United States Sugar Association. It furnishes enough figures to give a bookkeeper a headache. What it really wants is repeal of the tariff on sugar and substitution of a flat sales tax of 2 cents a pound.

Some very novel schemes are advanced these days, to make taxation as painless a form of extraction as possible. The child doesn't bother as much when the pill is sugar-coated.

COLORS
The latest hospitals are doing away with white, especially in the operating room. White, it is discovered, causes headache, nervousness, indigestion and other ailments. So it is eliminated, and more restful grays and tans are used instead.

Why don't they use green? It's the most restful color. That's why nature uses it so much in trees, grass and other plant life.

TRAGEDY
When you think you have troubles, remember Mary Dermody, crippled domestic, of Laurel Hill, N. T. She had lost $545 in life savings, which she had been 29 years accumulating with a view to obtaining admission to an old ladies' home. The money was tied in a handkerchief and pin, inside her dress. Pin came loose. Mary's money would have been safe in a bank. But that doesn't lessen the tragedy.

CROOKS
Seventy-tenths of the crooks brought into New York City courts are natives of other cities, claims Judge Manouse. He's defending his fair city against what he calls the charge of being "the worst city in the universe."

The other cities can come back at him with similar statistics. Their arrests include a lot of native New Yorkers.

Six of a kind, half a dozen of another.

ANVIL SPARKS

News from Christmas. It will be here December 25. Mail packages early so you can get an answer.

How about books for Christmas? Don't give dad a check book, or mother a cook book, or Bill a school book.

About a dozen sets of new false teeth would make a swell Christmas gift for a gossiping neighbor.

Don't forget the cook this Christmas. If you don't give her a present she will give you indignation.

A cup of sugar would make a wonderful Christmas present for a neighbor who borrows too much stuff.

Why not give the ice man a Christmas present? Something for scraping mud off his feet would be nice.

Don't forget the milk man. He likes Christmas presents. We suggest a big bucket for watering milk.

There's the plumber. Buy the plumber a Christmas present. What about a million memorandum books?

And there's the grocer. He's human and enjoys Christmas. Give him a nice payment on your grocery bill.

Remember the barber this Christmas. Give him some liniment for rubbing his tried jaw muscles.

And the butcher, get him a Christmas gift. A few extra bones to put in the steak would tickle him.

Why not give your wife a nice, soft rubber rolling pin for Christmas?

Give the bootlegger a Christmas present. A million new customers. His old ones are all worn out.

We know that taxpayers will give politicians for Christmas, but don't let because we don't cuss.

A nice little booklet containing a dozen silver-plated wrong numbers is a swell telephone gift.

Don't forget the cat this Christmas. Make the cat a present of a few real fat, milk-fed mice.

You should give the dog a Christmas present. If nothing else, buy him a couple of cats to chase.

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Clifford C. Robinson

PREVENTING HEADACHES
People who fly for a headache remedy, at onset, and keep it up year after years are surely on the wrong track in the pursuit of health. Trying to cure a headache without giving any attention to its cause, is like trying to put out a fire by shutting off the water supply.

The chief causes of headache come within a well defined limit. The so-called nervous headache, or hysterical attacks, lead all other causes, tried remedy.

Probably headache from digestive troubles might come second. Imaginary or "bluff" headache would come in a good third. As the also-ran causes, we have a group almost as numerous as all the parts and organs of the human body could furnish.

To give yourself a vacation from headache, carefully take stock of your daily habits and work and then see if real health habits can't accomplish more than the "rescue" cures.

The greatest preventive to that daily headache is to know your own condition thoroughly. If you strain your eyes by overwork at night or in your light during the day, a headache is liable to come your way.

The daily breathing of air contaminated with gasoline fumes, or other gases that irritate the nasal membranes, and attack, take away the day and constitute a regimen of headaches that will make the blood tingle.

Headaches common to women, and which often cause or female trouble, as a factor, usually result from incorrect posture, as far as standing, sitting and walking correctly and using of your head and neck, and when it must be the morning sun.

BITE PROVES FATAL TO LOUISIANA PRINCESS
VIENNA, Nov. 19.—Countess Har-Aden, a former Hohenzollern Princess, died here Saturday of a bite on the neck, a result of a dog bite while visiting the Budapest zoo.

A MATING IN THE WILDS

By OTTOWELL BINNS
ILLUSTRATED BY RALPH STANTFIELD
GEO. ALFRED A. KNOPP, INC. ONE'S ME A SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Hubert Stane serves a term in prison for forgery. He visits a northern post of the Hudson Bay Company, where he meets a young time friend, Gerald Ainley, who promises to visit Stane's camp at midnight.

Stane becomes acquainted with a beautiful Indian girl named Miskodee. At midnight Stane is attacked and when he awakes he finds himself in a cage with Indians.

Ainley takes a trip with a governor of the company and falls in love with Helen Tardely, the governor's niece. Helen disappears from her uncle's camp and Gerald with an Indian guide goes in search of her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
That evening he camped at the foot of a fall, which he had heard of, but never before seen, and spent the whole of the next day in portaging his belongings to navigable water, and on the following evening where the river ran so swiftly and where the rapids were so numerous that now the river presented no barrier for two hundred miles.

As he sat smoking outside his little tent, an absent, thoughtful look upon his face, his eyes fixed dreamily on the river, his mind reverted once more to the problem of recent happenings, and as he considered it, there came to him the picture of Miskodee as he had seen her running towards him between the willows just before the blow which had knocked her unconscious. She had cried to him to put him on his guard, and the apprehension in her face as he remembered it told him that she knew of the ill that was to befall him. He recalled the directness of her speech in their first conversation and smiled at the memory of her estimate of himself. Then the smile died, leaving the absent, thoughtful look more pronounced, and in the same moment the vision of Miskodee was obliterated by the vision of Helen Tardely.

Again, as he recalled the steady, scrutinizing glance of her gray eyes, he felt the blood rioting in his heart, and for a moment his eyes were alight with dreams. Then he laughed in sudden bitterness.

"What a confounded fool I am!" he said.

The utterance was suddenly checked; and an interested look came on his face. There was something coming down the river. He rose quickly to his feet in order to get a better view of the object which had suddenly floated into his line of vision. It was a canoe. It appeared to be empty, and thinking it was a derelict drifting from some camp up river, he threw himself down again, for even if he saved it, it could be of no possible use to him. He wondered whether the current would swing it clear, and now watched it with interest since he had once heard a river-man declare that anything that surrendered itself completely to a current would clear obstructions. He had not believed the theory at the time, and now before his eyes it was disproved; for the derelict swung straight towards the rocks, then twisted half-way round as it was caught by some swirl, and struck a sharp piece of rock broadside on.

Then happened a totally unexpected thing. As the canoe struck a girl who had been lying at the bottom, raised herself suddenly, and stared at the water overboard, one hand clutching the gunwale. A second later the canoe drifted against another rock and suddenly tilted, throwing the girl into the broken water.

By this time, taken by surprise though he was Stane was on his feet, and running down the bank. He did not stop to launch his canoe but just as he was flung himself into the water, and started to swim across the river drifting little by little with the current, striving to reach a point where he could intercept the girl as she drifted down. It was no light task he had set himself, for the current was strong, and carried him further than he intended to go, but he was in front of the piece of human flotam which the river was claiming for its prey, and as it came nearer he stretched a hand and grasped at it. He caught a handful of chestnut hair that floated like long weed in the river's eddy, and the next moment turned the girl over on her back. She was unconscious, but as he glimpsed at her face, his heart leaped for it was the face of that fair English girl of whom but a few minutes before he had been dreaming.

He looked for something else to hold by, and finding nothing, twisted the long strand of hair he had gripped into a rope, and held it with his teeth. Then he glanced round. The current had carried him further than he had realized, and now the river presented no barrier for two hundred miles.

As he sat smoking outside his little tent, an absent, thoughtful look upon his face, his eyes fixed dreamily on the river, his mind reverted once more to the problem of recent happenings, and as he considered it, there came to him the picture of Miskodee as he had seen her running towards him between the willows just before the blow which had knocked her unconscious. She had cried to him to put him on his guard, and the apprehension in her face as he remembered it told him that she knew of the ill that was to befall him. He recalled the directness of her speech in their first conversation and smiled at the memory of her estimate of himself. Then the smile died, leaving the absent, thoughtful look more pronounced, and in the same moment the vision of Miskodee was obliterated by the vision of Helen Tardely.

Again, as he recalled the steady, scrutinizing glance of her gray eyes, he felt the blood rioting in his heart, and for a moment his eyes were alight with dreams. Then he laughed in sudden bitterness.

"What a confounded fool I am!" he said.

The utterance was suddenly checked; and an interested look came on his face. There was something coming down the river. He rose quickly to his feet in order to get a better view of the object which had suddenly floated into his line of vision. It was a canoe. It appeared to be empty, and thinking it was a derelict drifting from some camp up river, he threw himself down again, for even if he saved it, it could be of no possible use to him. He wondered whether the current would swing it clear, and now watched it with interest since he had once heard a river-man declare that anything that surrendered itself completely to a current would clear obstructions. He had not believed the theory at the time, and now before his eyes it was disproved; for the derelict swung straight towards the rocks, then twisted half-way round as it was caught by some swirl, and struck a sharp piece of rock broadside on.

Then happened a totally unexpected thing. As the canoe struck a girl who had been lying at the bottom, raised herself suddenly, and stared at the water overboard, one hand clutching the gunwale. A second later the canoe drifted against another rock and suddenly tilted, throwing the girl into the broken water.

By this time, taken by surprise though he was Stane was on his feet, and running down the bank. He did not stop to launch his canoe but just as he was flung himself into the water, and started to swim across the river drifting little by little with the current, striving to reach a hank between his teeth once more, and with both hands free began to work from bough to bough. One that he clutched gave an ominous crack. It began to sag in a dangerous way, and at the fork where it joined a larger branch a white sail appeared and began to grow wider. He watched it growing, his eyes quite steady, his mind almost as steady, but his hand held for the space of time that he needed it; and it was with heartful relief that he grasped a larger bough, and the next moment touched bottom with his feet.

At that he shifted his hold on the girl, towing her by a portion of her dress, and two minutes later, lifted her beyond the water-line on the high shelving bank. The next moment he had her in his arms and was scrambling up the bank.

Gaspin he stood looking at her until he had recovered his breath, the girl unconscious of his gaze; then when he felt equal to the task, he plunged again into the river and swam to his own camp. A few minutes later he returned in his canoe, carrying with him a few water-bottle filled with medicinal brandy.

The girl lay as he had left her, and his first action was to pour a few drops of brandy between her parted lips, and then he waited, chafing her hands, and a minute later the long-lashed eyelids fluttered and opened and the gray eyes looked wildly round without seeing him, then closed again and a long sigh came from her as she lay upon her unconsciousness anew. At that he waited no more time. Lifting her, he carried her down to the canoe, and paddling across the river, bore her up to his own camp, and laid her down where the heat of the fire would reach her, then he administered further brandy and once more waited.

Again the eyelids fluttered and opened, and the girl looked round with wild, uncomprehending gaze, then her eyes grew steady, and a moment later fixed themselves upon Stane. He waited, saw wonder light them, then, in a voice that shook the girl asked: "How did I—come here?"

"That you know best yourself," answered the young man, cheerfully. "I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river, that is all I know." The girl made as if to reply, but Stane prevented her.

"No, don't try to talk for a little while. Wait! Take a little more of this brandy."

She lifted herself into a sitting posture, and he thoughtfully rolled a small sack of beans to support her back, then she looked at him with a quick questioning gaze.

"I have seen you before, have I not? You are the man who was at Fort Malsoun, aren't you—the man whom Mr. Ainley used to know?"

"Yes," he answered with a sudden bitterness. "I am the man, cheerfully. I fished you out of the river,

14
BIG DAYS

COME ON!

SALESMEN
WANTED
Apply to the man
in charge

DANVILLE AND ALL YOU FOLKS FROM
Chatham, Gretna, Martinsville, Yanceyville, Reidsville, Ruffin, Pelham, Keeling, Halifax, Milton, Blanche, Axton, Leaksville-Spray-Draper, South Boston, Houston and surrounding counties.
IN FACT EVERYBODY FOR A HUNDRED MILES AROUND

NEW 1923
CLOTHING

BE HERE BRIGHT and EARLY
THURSDAY, Nov. 22

NEW 1923
SHOES

WE BID YOU WELCOME

You are all invited—you are welcome and we are going to treat you as if you were a guest in our private home. One of the main reasons for this special bargain event is to cement the friendship of our old customers closer and gain the patronage of hundreds of new ones. Therefore in the event of anything arising whereby you desire to exchange your merchandise or even request a refund upon the return of your goods, we will gladly serve you with courtesy and promptness, and return your money without question. That is the policy of this store, and it is embodied with every transaction made during this sale. COME!

PRICES
SO HOT THEY MELT
THE ICE

The Professional Sale of the Year

During this event you can take your choice of anything in the store at prices that have never before been submitted to the people of Danville, and surrounding counties, when quality is considered. Everything has been placed at your disposal, at prices so low that a lean pocketbook will now do the same as a good big healthy bank roll. Remember we are not offering you any old odds and ends—it is all our new fall stock, and you will not be forced to buy when you come to this sale. Our clerks will be only too glad to show you our merchandise whether you buy or not, as we are perfectly willing for this event to stand upon its merits. COME, BUY AND SAVE!

THESE
PRICES
LOOK A MISTAKE
IN PRINT

SALE OPENS THURSDAY, NOV. 22nd AT 9 A. M.

Lasts 14 Days With Supreme Value Giving on Everything in Stock

BOYS' BEST WORK SHOES

Mothers, here is something that will mean a considerable saving—made for boys who are hard on shoes. They come in black only, with heavy brass tip toes, an all leather shoe throughout—a good run of sizes. Do not miss these—only

95c

FELT SLIPPERS

We know that you will need them these cold mornings. They are made of high grade felt, and they come in all of the wanted colors. It will pay you to buy a supply of them now. They will keep you warm and you can buy them now at

79c

WOOL SHIRTS

Men's $2.50 Heavy Wool Shirts. These are of first quality, made large and roomy—a big run of sizes. They are regular $2.50 values. Get a supply now, while they are going special at

$1.45

LADIES' SWEATERS

Ladies' $6.00 Coat Sweaters for $1.59. A good, heavy, all wool Sweater for these sharp days. They're heavy knit coat Sweaters; they come in all wanted colors. Regular $6 values. Get them at

$1.59

Men's $35 Overcoat $21.50

You hardly can pick $13.50 from a Christmas tree unless some mighty good friend generously remembers you, like B. Goldstein that's what you save on this overcoat. The materials are rough end semi-rough and smooth fabric imported cloth silk and satin lined, the styles are half and full belted colors, brown, gray and oxfords. All sizes. The tailoring the best. Splendid $35 overcoat at

$21.50

$30.00 Overcoats $17.00

Men—You know when you buy a Overcoat that they come from a tailoring house of high repute—every one made of all wool material, medium heavy weight, soft and hard finished, tans, browns, greys, blues, blacks, Meltons and mixtures. All lined with strong fabrics. $30.00 Overcoats at

$17.00

Special For Thursday BOY'S CLOTHING

You economical fathers, you saving monthers come to this powerful sale with your Boy and outfit him completely while you can purchase a suit and overcoat for what you usually pay for a suit alone.

Boy's Suits

Made of cashmires tweeds and heavy worsteds. Norfolk models with full knickers and many come with two pair of pants for opening morning. Values to $10.00.

$4.95

Watch These Shoes Take a Walk

300 Pairs of Them
Values to $6.00

Here is a lot of wonderful values. Any lady or man with an eye for economy will be here Thursday morning, November 22, at 9 o'clock. Mostly wetted soles. Blucher or bat style, medium pointed or pointed toes, black and brown calfskin. Mostly all sizes. It is only an occasion of this kind and to stimulate early buying that brings them to you at a price like this. While they last, a pair

95c

Men's and Young Men's Suits

This is undoubtedly be one of the greatest men's and Young men's suit sale that ever came to town, the fabrics are high test long strand and all wool which emphasizes there economy by their long wearing qualities. They come in tweeds, homespun, worsted, blue, greys, browns. Regular value $18.00. Sale price $9.95.

$9.95

Boys' $8.00 Suits $3.95

You will be honest with yourself when you state: 'I have never bought a boy's suit of such quality for less than $8.00,' when you look at these suits. You will hear this declaration every few minutes during this sale in our Boy's Suit Department. Boys $8.00 Suits at $3.95 during this stock disposal sale. Good, sturdy, all wool materials in checks, stripes and plaids; Norfolk styles and all sizes. Regular price $8.00. This sale price

$3.95

Matchless Savings all Along the Line!

Please remember, although this is an unusually large advertisement, it utterly impossible to go into the quality and durability of our entire line of shoes, and other merchandise we have in stock How is This For Value? Another bargain no man will pass over. There are two styles here. Broad high toe, and broad reg. toe bluchers, in best calf. Rubber heels, lace. Fine welts. A regular $6.50 seller that defies duplication anywhere. Only

$3.95

B. GOLDSTEIN

203 CRAGHEAD STREET

COME

GENERAL MERCHANDISE

COME

DANVILLE, VA.

Overnight Features

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oklahoma Senate court of impeachment removes John Calloway Walton as governor after finding him guilty on eleven of sixteen charges.

Representative Graham, of Illinois, announces his candidacy for Republican leadership of the next House, opposing Representative Longworth, of Ohio.

Department of Justice of Justice accuses Swift Packing Company of fraud and overcharges in its war-time contracts for army bacon; Swift officials deny government charges and ask the public to suspend judgment until court decision is given.

New York City jury returns verdict against Mrs. Bula E. Croker, widow, of Tammany Chief.

Columbia University students are to vote on plan to abolish examinations because of students to study throughout the year is united with a lack of honor at examination time, student leaders announce; faculty and campus leaders declare they hope to develop a higher sense of responsibility among the students.

Cel. Morton C. Mumma, of West Point, field judge of Michigan-Wisconsin football game, takes full responsibility for Walter Eckersall's decision last Saturday to allow Michigan the winning touchdown; Col. Mumma says Eckersall faced unjust criticism and even mob violence.

Progressive leaders meeting at Chicago to launch a third political party, vote to hold national convention either in St. Paul or Minneapolis next May 30.

Mrs. Gifford Pinchot at Philadelphia tells Republican women of Pennsylvania that Governor Pinchot will coach the state at next primary election to find out how all candidates stand on the problem of law enforcement.

Capitals of Europe show much satisfaction in more hopeful news from Paris.

British liberals attack governments foreign policy as Prime Minister Baldwin assails Lloyd George.

Adolph Hitler, leader of the Bavarian fascists, is reported seriously ill in Landsberg fortress.

King and Queen of Spain kiss Pope's toe and then his hand in act of devotion to head of Roman Catholic church.

Havana University students cancel lecture invitation to Vincent Blanes, Spanish author, accusing him of selling his talents for American gold.

THEY'LL LOSE THEIR DADDIES.

LONDON.—Engine drivers (they call them engineers in the U. S. A.) are coddling their iron steeds too much to suit British railway officials. Their affection, "is said, have disrupted schedules. No longer will the old timer murmur coaxingly to his engine: "Steady, now, Polly, steady! Quietly, now, old girl—there's plenty of time!" For an old engineer will not be permitted to remain at the throttle of any particular locomotive long enough to get that fond of it.

ALL JONES' FAULT.

Prof.—This is the third time you've looked on Jones paper.
Student—Yes, sir, he doesn't write very plainly.—Boston Beanpot.

Realize what Kellogg's Bran means to your family's health?

Eaten regularly each day, Kellogg's Bran will permanently relieve constipation; it will free you from dangerous toxic poisons that lead to 90% of all human illness; it will remove the cause and sweeten a bad breath; it will clear a pimply complexion through its action on the bowels. In fact, Kellogg's Bran, through its natural action as a bulk, indigestible agent, will tone-up the whole system!

If you know exactly what constipation means from a medical viewpoint you would lose no time eating Kellogg's Bran yourself and serving it daily to your family. And, Kellogg's Bran is actually delicious, its nut-like flavor adding greatly to the enjoyment of eating cereals. Eat at least two table-spoonfuls each day; in chronic cases, with each meal.

There are many attractive ways to serve Kellogg's Bran. Eat it in winter with hot milk as a cereal. Or, mix it with cereals before serving. Many housewives cook it with cereals, in each case adding two table-spoonfuls for each person. You will also enjoy the nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran when it has been sprinkled over hot or cold cereals.

You have missed some of the joys of life if you have not eaten raisin bread, raisin griddle-cakes, etc., made with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes are printed on each box.

Don't delay your fight against constipation; don't lose a minute in the great battle against illness! You can buy Kellogg's Bran from all grocers and you can have it served in individual packages at first-class hotels, restaurants and clubs.

NOW OPEN ANOTHER NEW PENDER'S

LOOK FOR THE YELLOW FRONT STORES
552 MAIN STREET, DANVILLE, VA.
Near Postoffice.

Pender's Stores are Noted for Their Low Prices, Sanitary Condition, and the Courtesy of our Salesmen. We give you below a list of OUR REGULAR EVERY DAY PRICES.

Special Free Offer! We will give free to the first 100 customers, whose purchases, of their own selection, amount to $1.00 or more one can of Heinz Baker Beans in Tomato Sauce and one can of Heinz Cooked Macaroni with Cheese and Mushroom Sauce. This is the Latest Addition "To the Fifty-Seven Family."

Best American Granulated Sugar, Pound, 91-2c.

PALACE PATENT FLOUR

12 lb Bag	47c	24 lb Bag	90c	48 lb Bag	$1.70	96 lb Bag	$3.35
-----------	-----	-----------	-----	-----------	--------	-----------	--------

WONDER SELF-RISING FLOUR

12 lb Bag	45c	24 lb Bag	88c	48 lb Bag	$1.65	96 lb Bag	$3.25
-----------	-----	-----------	-----	-----------	--------	-----------	--------

Swifts Pic-Nic HAMS, 1 lb. 17c	Swifts Frankfurters, 51 20c	Sweet or Irish POTATOES, 3c	Thin Skinned LEMONS, 28c	Best Tub BUTTER, 53c
All Pork Sausage Meat, 1 lb. 25c	Smithfield Style Sausage, 1 lb. 25c

Pure Lard, pound 17c; Salt Pork, Rib Bellies, lb. 15c; Plates, lb 14c

CANNED MEATS

Bacon, Gov. Issue, 1 lb. 17c	Pork Sausage, 1 lb. 22c	2 lb. can 21c
12 pound can $1.80	Can 22c	Corned Beef Hash, Gov. Issue, 1 lb can 10c
Corned Beef Hash, 12 lb can 15c	Roast Beef, 6 lb can 55c	Lunch Tongue, No. 1 Can 25c
Morris Brains, 1 lb Can 25c	Corned Beef, 6 lb Can 65c

Cereals

Cream of Wheat Pkg 23c
D. P. Oatmeal, pkg 9c
Quakers or Mothers Oats pk 10c

Swifts Premium Hams, lb 29c

Golden Blend Coffee, lb 23c
Unusual Quality Sealed Package

D. P. Coffee, the World's Best Drink lb. 33c
This is absolutely the Finest Grade Coffee Produced. We save you 12c on Every Pound

Yellow Front Coffee, lb 29c
Sealed Package, Superior Quality

Tomatoes, solid pack, large can 15c
Corn Fancy Crusher, can 10c
Corn, Elbe Rider, can 15c
Old Dutch Chutney, can 8c
Beets, Stringless, can 15c
Peas, Economy, can 15c
Peas, Diamond L Can 23c
Asparagus Tips, can 37c
Orange and Lemon Peel, lb 32c

Bacon, Pound Carton 39c

Citrus Drained, pound 60c
California Prunes 3 lbs. 20c
Apples, Fancy Evaporated 15c
Empire Evaporated Milk, Tall Can 11c

Marshall's Kipped Herrings, large can 27c
Cheese, Best American, lb 33c
Refined Peaches, large 1/2 can 25c
Campbell's Peas, can 10c
Campbell's Soup, can 19c
Fancy Evaporated Peaches, lb 15c

New Crop Nuts
Brazil Fancy Mixed pound 21c
Mixed Fancy Quality lb 25c
Walnuts, English pound 37c
Almonds, Paper Shell lb 31c
Raisin Seeded or Seedless pkg 14c

National Biscuit Co.'s Pkg. Goods
Oyster Toast, Flavored Biscuit, 1/2 doz Lunch Biscuits 5c

SUGAR WAFERS
Marshall's, Harbison, Louis, Michigan, Nutter's, Nat'l Biscuit Co. 8c

A Few of the Best Money Can Buy
D. P. Fancy (extra large) Peas, Can 29c
D. P. Cocoa, 1-2 lb. can 18c
D. P. Ketchup, 1/2 Bottle 23c
D. P. Hair Nuts, Single mesh 5c
Double Mesh 7c
D. P. Sugar Corn, can 18c

Pure Cider Vinegar, Quart 21c; Half-Gallon, 39c; Gallon, 75c
Demonstration by National Biscuit Co., Opening Day by H. J. Heinz Co., on Saturday.

FATHER OF FOUR STAR COLLEGE ATHLETE

THOMAS EDWARD ELLWOOD, SHOWN WITH HIS WIFE AND THEIR FOUR KIDDIES, AS HE APPEARS IN GRIDIRON COSTUME AND IN WORK CLOTHES FEEDING THE SWINE ON HIS FARM.

BY MAURICE HENLE

LEMONT, Pa., Nov. 20.—If a man operates a farm he's considered to have a man-sized job on his hands.

If, in addition, he has a wife and four kiddies to whom to give a faithful care, chances are he'll be a busy, busy man.

If, in addition to that, he attends college and studies hard to obtain a degree, he is assuming a burden heavier than most men would care to carry.

And if, in addition to all of the foregoing, he stars at football and wrestling, he deserves the acclaim of the whole world as King of Hustlers.

Thomas Edward Ellwood, Pennsylvania State College student, fits the above description like a King Tut gown on a slim woman. Ellwood, one of the star players on Hugo Bezdek's famous Nittany Lion squad, is the inspiration for every student in the college and for the townspeople near the old wood cottage in the beautiful wooded spot beneath the towering brow of Mount Nittany.

"But," protested Tom as he chased a couple of chickens off the running board of his flivver, "why all the fuss? I'm not much different from any other fellow."

"I like to play football and wrestle, and although it's hard to go to college and take care of the family, too, no fellow gets anywhere these days unless he hustles."

Ellwood plays guard and tackle on the Penn State second team regular, but he is so good Bezdek has sent him into most of the big games this fall, notably that recently staged with Georgia Tech.

The prowess of the college student-husband-father-farmer athlete doesn't stop with football. He's the light-heavy wrestling champ and Lion rooters are looking to him to annex the intercollegiate title in his class.

Mrs. Ellwood keeps her hands full with the unusually active and robust quartet of youngsters: William, 6; Thomas, Jr., 5; Axel, 3, and Gail, 18 months. Three boys and girl. And she laughingly admits to a "speaking acquaintance" with her active hubby.

"Yes," agreed Tom, "I reckon it's harder on the family than it is on me. But the big grind will be over next summer when I get that Bachelor of Science degree in agriculture."

His usual day? It makes the average man or woman ashamed of his or her puny efforts.

"I get up about 6:30 every morning," he explained. "Then I drive to college for about three or four morning classes. I take luncheon with the football squad. Then more classes in the afternoon and about four o'clock comes practice and scrimmage."

"This lasts until seven o'clock. Supper next, and then an hour or so of football lecture, skull practice, as it is called. I get home about nine o'clock—usually. In the wrestling season it is later than that. And when I get home, I study my lessons for the next day."

But, he argued, inasmuch as he is aiming to become a coach of football and wrestling until he can "stock up" a good livestock farm back in Washington county, why shouldn't he be willing to undergo the grind?

Ellwood's college and athletic career has been one of ups and downs.

Nine years ago he entered Penn State, but injuries forced him to withdraw the first year. He married in 1916, and re-entered college in 1921.

The following year he brought his family to the farm near the college. Several cracked ribs forced him from the wrestling game that year, and later when the title was within his grasp, he contracted the "flu."

Negro Pugilists To Fight Tonight

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Battling Sikki, of France and "Kid" Norfolk, of New York, rival negro light-heavyweights, meet tonight at Madison Square garden in a fifteen round match, with the 175 pound negro title at stake.

There is unusual interest in the bout as it will mark the American debut of Sikki, who sprang to fame by wrestling the world's light-heavyweight title from George Carpentier, only to lose it last March to Mike McTigue on points in a 20 round contest at Dublin.

The battler, one of the most picturesque of fight characters, has trained hard and is confident of victory. Critics, however, believe he will have difficulty taking the measure of Norfolk, who is a rugged, hard hitting opponent, though lacking in aggressiveness.

THEY SURE STOP THEM.
People who haven't time to stop at a grade-crossing manage to find time to attend the funeral.—Exchange.

Committees of Three Parties In S. D. Meet to Name Delegates to Conventions

(By The Associated Press.)
SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 20.—In each of the 59 South Dakota counties today Republican, Democratic and Farm-Labor committees meet to select delegates to three state proposal conventions at Pierre, December 4. The state's political leanings will be disclosed by the instructions given these county proposal men elected today.

It is believed that the Republican race has narrowed to Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, and President Coolidge, with several influential Republican office holders favoring Johnson's Progressive Union nomination of William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the Treasury, with yet a third group boosting for Henry Ford, although no announcement of his candidacy has been authorized.

The hardest fight today is expected to be between adherents of Ford and Senator Robert A. La Follette of Wisconsin, in the Farmer-Labor counties throughout the state. Leaders of this party, which grew out of the old non-partisan league movement, believe that with Ford as their standard bearer they could sweep the state, pointing out that in the 1922 gubernatorial contest the Farmer-Labor party had 46,000 votes against 10,000 for the Democrats and 7,900 for the Republicans. They count on attracting the votes of the large Democratic-Ford group.

The uncertainty that exists in South Dakota as to whether Ford would accept a nomination on a "great concern among his adherents" last night. The law requires each person nominated by the proposal conventions to give a written acceptance of the nomination by January 1st in order to go on the ballot. Political leaders are shy of naming Ford unless some assurance can be obtained that he would accept.

Suppose You Were a Chemist

—What food would win your complete approbation as containing all the elements needed for health? Just one food—BREAD

Yet the delicious flavor, rich tender texture, and crisp brown crust that make an irresistible appeal to your appetite do not appear in the chemist's test tube.

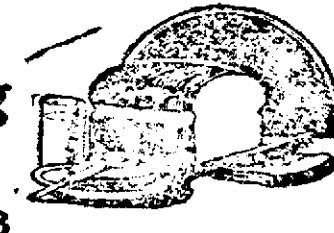

The most careful chemical analysis made by scientists can only show the ingredients that go into a loaf of Bread.

BUTTERKRUNST BREAD—the loaf of your choice—is as pure and excellent as the elements it contains, combined by careful scientific baking in clean, airy bakeries.

The quality that results proves the presence of these carefully selected materials just as truly as Science can tell the story.

Your satisfaction will be the surest test of BUTTERKRUNST BREAD. Skillful blending of materials with just the proper baking result in a loaf that when sliced and put on the table forms the basis for delicious, substantial meals, three times daily.

Ask Your Grocer
Harris Baking Company
582 Loyal St. Phone 63

THE NEW EL-REES-SO

Is Growing Always More Popular BECAUSE

After all nothing satisfies like a good cigar

TATE & THOMAS
DISTRIBUTORS
DANVILLE, VA.

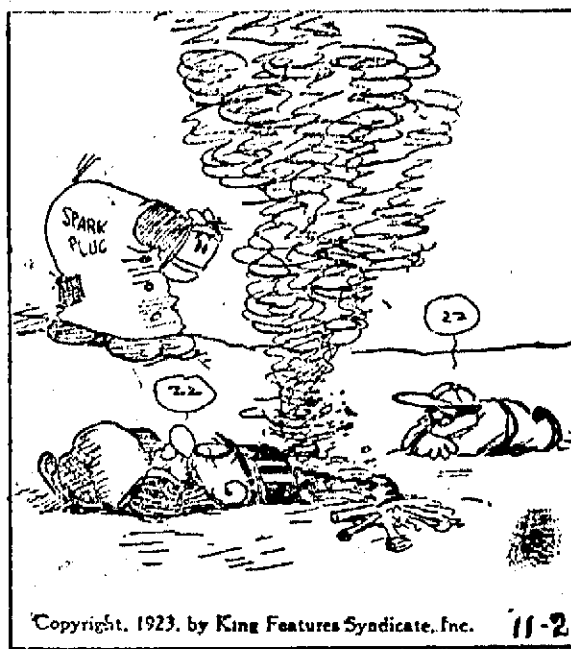

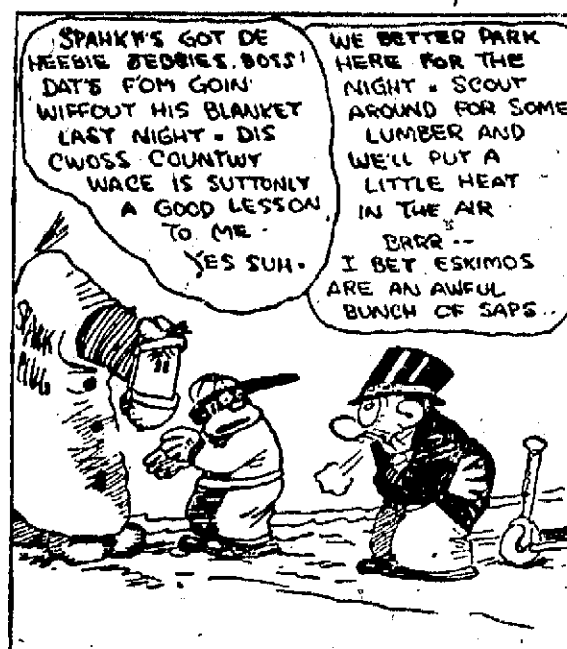

The Joy Twins
2 for 15c

BARNEY GOOGLE and SPARK PLUG

No Wonder
Barney
Thought It
Was Warm.

Copyright, 1923, by King Features Syndicate, Inc. 11-20

IT'S DIFFERENT.
Shop Foreman—You ain't one of them blokes who drops their tools and scoots as soon as the knock-off blows, are you?
Lily White—Not me. Why, I often have to wait five minutes after I put me tools away before the whistle blows.—Sydney Bulletin.

Break congestion

Apply Sloan's. You don't have to rub it in. Just pat it on gently. It sends fresh, new blood circulating swiftly through the tissues. Breathing becomes easier. Congestion clears away. Soon the cold is gone. Get a bottle from your druggist today—35 cents.

Sloan's Liniment—kills pain!

Midwest "Outlaws" Get Many of the Big League Stars

The Midwest League is the newest haven for ball players who have grievances, fancied or otherwise, with organized baseball. There are six clubs in the Midwest League, Kenosha, Wis., has two teams in the circuit, Racine and Beloit one each. Canton, O., is represented. So is Massillon, O. T. teams are backed by industrial concerns.

WOODWARD LEAR

The club rosters are sprinkled with big league names—names that used to thrill the fans in the National and American League circuits. Kenosha, the past season, had the services of Larry Kopf and Frank Miller, former members of the Boston Braves; Walter Kinney, who came from the Athletics; Frank Woodward, ex-White Sox athlete; King Lear of Milwaukee; and Bob Wright of Toledo.

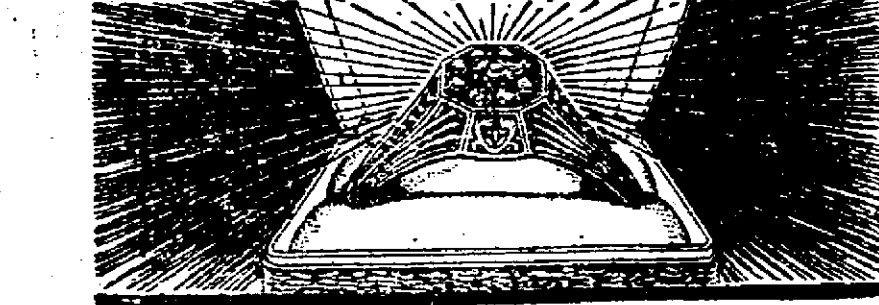

KINNEY KOPF

All these players were induced to leave their berths in organized baseball and sign with the Kenosha club. Money being the most persuasive argument with a ball player, it may be presumed that the Kenosha backers gave the players more than they were getting in league baseball. It is reported that more minor and major leaguers will be offered contracts by the Midwest Leaguers during the winter season. In time the Midwest League may become an acute annoyance if not a menace to organized baseball.

Scott Perry, who shaped up like a great pitcher when he was with the Athletics, pitched for Massillon last year, and was a big hero in the circuit. Dave Black, a promising left-hander, with many mannerisms suggestive of Eddie Plank, had a Red Sox contract, but preferred Racine to Boston. Eddie Charrity turned his back on Charlie Griffith and Washington and signed with Beloit. Charrity says other big leaguers are on their way to join the Wisconsin-Ohio circuit.

The favorite stories of Elizabeth Barrett Browning in childhood were Greek stories.

Gift Time Again

And Not a Day Too Early to Select a Present for "Her"

For Mother, Sweetheart, Wife, Sister or Friend—the personal gift of jewelry is unexcelled for Christmas giving. You cannot hope to please better—even though it be the gift unusual or unique—than to bestow. Our cases and shelves are loaded with many new, clever and original presentations. Take advantage of the opportunity to shop early. If you want to make your selections now, while all stock are complete, we will hold them for you for a Christmas delivery.

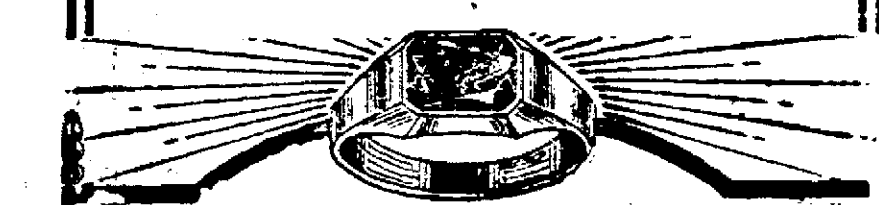

Diamonds—Pearls—Silverware—Cuff Buttons—Watches for Men—Jewelry Sets—Wrist Watches for Ladies—Shaving Sets—Cigarette Cases—Vanity Cases—Belt Buckles—Fountain Pens—Lavaliers—Bar Pins—Stone Set Rings, all colors—Silver Thimbles—Eastman Kodaks—Emblem Rings, all orders.

No Charge for Engraving We Give "S&H" Stamps

P. P. Booth & Co.

NEW LOCATION.

MASONIC TEMPLE FIRST DOOR ON UNION ST.

No. 4—Correct Position.

BY ARTHUR MURRAY
Director, National Institute of Social Dancing.

The Correct Dancing Position.
Stand erect. Be natural as well as comfortable, and not too close to your partner, yet not too far away. At all times, move easily and smoothly. The lady rests her left hand, lightly at the back of the man's shoulder. Her right hand is extended to the side. The arm is not held stiffly, but is bent to form a graceful curve. The man holds his arms fairly high. Hold your partner firmly, especially with the right arm and hand. Let the lady feel the pressure of your hand at her back (under the shoulder blade, above the waist line). The lady has more confidence in you if you hold her firmly. The left arm is bent at the elbow. In the beginning, dance on the toes and balls of the feet. Do not let the heels touch the floor.

No Fancy Holds.

Do not curl your arm under that of your partner. Fancy holds are out of date.

To look well while dancing, make yourself tall; hold your head up high, chin in, chest out. Dance as though your body were floating through the air. Keep your heels off the floor as much as possible. Keep your legs close together; do not spread them apart.

Hold your partner directly in front of you—and not to one side. When you walk forward, step directly toward your partner as though you were trying to step on your partner's feet. Do not try to avoid your partner's feet when going forward.

To Avoid Stiffness.

So-called stiffness is of two kinds. People are often referred to as "stiff" because their muscles are tense.

Have you ever driven an automobile? If so, you remember that when you first learned to shift gears you would stiffen up, your muscles would become taut, and you could almost feel yourself in a nervous tension. It is the same with dancers when they first start out to dance. Because the beginner is not yet sure of himself, his muscles stiffen up. By practice, this stiffness will pass away and when the dancer knows the steps, ease and grace will come.

Practice Steps.

The second kind of stiffness is the result of inexperience. The person who does not know the steps and has not trained the muscles of his feet to dance with ease cannot be anything but "stiff." The muscles of a person's body are stiff until they are loosened up by the proper training. The ballet dancer, even the one who dances as light as a fairy, is stiff when the newest ballroom steps. Each step brings into play different muscles. To become rid of stiffness, one has to learn to dance the steps and when proficient, ease will take the place of rigidity.

ARTHUR MURRAY AND ALLEEN MEEHAN DEMONSTRATE THE CORRECT POSITION IN DANCING: ERECT POSE AND NOT TOO CLOSE TO PARTNER.

Ballroom Conduct is discussed by Mr. Murray in his next article.

Thirteen Horses Entered In Race

(By The Associated Press.)
BALTIMORE, Nov. 20.—The Prince George handicap for three year olds at a mile and one furlong, is the outstanding attraction on the opening card at Bowie track today. Thirteen horses, including some of the seasons best three year olds are entered in the $7,500 event. Among them is Rear Admiral Grayson's My Own, although it is doubtful whether he will start, in view of the impending match with Zev. Other prominent entries are General Thatcher, Dunlin, Shuffle Along, H. P. White, nee's Gad Fly and Flagstaff and H. Alterman's Home Stretch. Settling Sun, King Solomon's Seal, High Prince Moonraker, Solisa and Faith complete the list.

The track is fast and turfmen anticipate one of the best three-year-old races of the season.

Lee Is Elected Captain of the V. M. I. Freshmen

WYNDHAM E. LEE

(Special to The Bee)
LEXINGTON, Va., Nov. 20.—Wyndham E. Lee has been elected captain of the Virginia Military Institute Freshmen Eleven. He was the unanimous choice of the first year squad for leadership this fall.

Young Lee is from the Virginia Episcopal School, Lynchburg, Va., where he was a leader in the various student activities and received his early football experience. Last year being picked as "All State" prep full back by the official student publication of the University of Virginia.

The Freshmen team has been four out of five games played to date and Lee's playing has been an outstanding feature in every contest and he should prove a valuable asset to the Varsity team in 1924.

YEP, THE COACH WAS SAYING HIM, BUT FOR WHAT?

The fresh bumper of the baseball leagues had nothing on this individual.

We'll call him Jones of the Notre Cross variety, a halfback.

One of these I-know-I'm-good birds.

After working out with the squad for a week or so Jones was asked to turn in his suit and retire to the sidelines.

"What! You aren't on the squad anymore?" asked a fellow student in mock surprise.

"Oh, I'm still on the squad," the young man answered, "but the coach is saying me."

"Saying you?" For what, the junior asked.

At Waynesboro, Augusta Military Academy 13; Fishbourne Military school 6.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEM

The next hundred million

On the Southern Railway System in the past ten years we have invested more than $100,000,000 in the enlargement of our facilities to provide for the growth of traffic over our 8,300 miles of lines.

The remarkable industrial growth of the South has made necessary every dollar of this expenditure.

But the South is going to keep on growing. More railroad facilities will be demanded. Another $100,000,000 will be needed for tracks and terminals and equipment in the next few years.

How will the next hundred million be provided?

With the continued cooperation of the people of the South, the Southern Railway System will be able not only to save a part of its earnings to provide additional facilities, but also to attract new capital from the investment markets of the world, and thus increase the wealth of the South.

Southern Railway System last year spent in the South $20,000,000 more than it received from the South.

The SOUTHERN SERVES THE SOUTH

Andy Gump and Gasoline Alley in Full Pages Every Saturday in The Bee

THE DUFFS

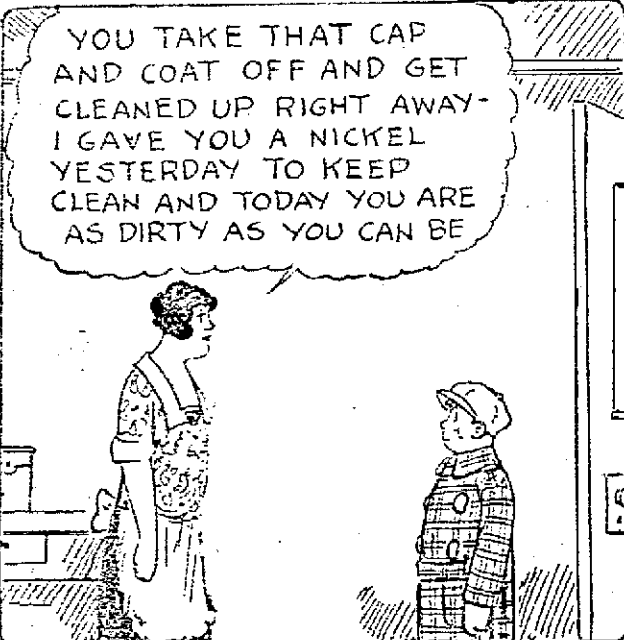

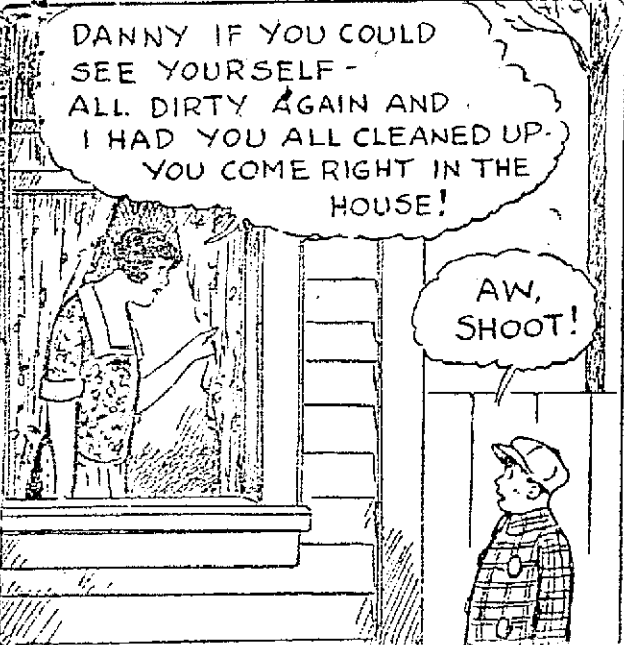

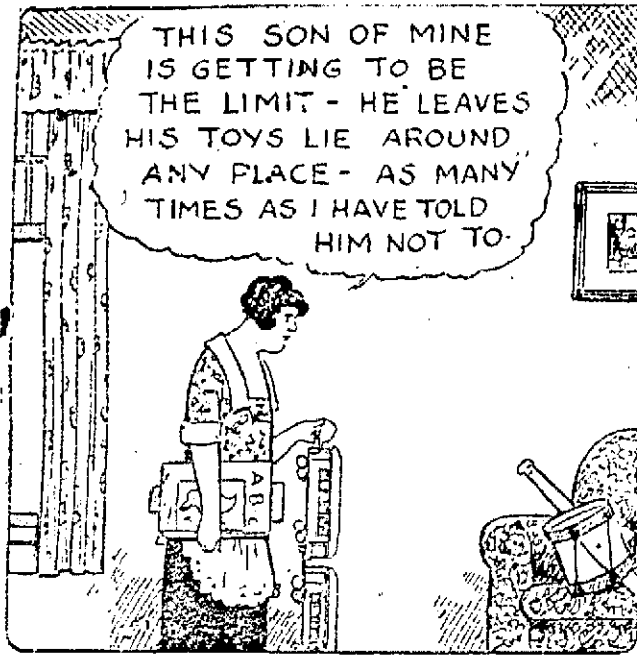

By Allman

GASOLINE ALLEY

NEVER MIND, WALT—OTHERS, TOO, HAVE TRIED AND FAILED

By King

Actual Proof

BARNEY GOOGLE AND HIS FAMOUS RACE HORSE "SPARK PLUG" —AND— CAN YOU BEAT IT

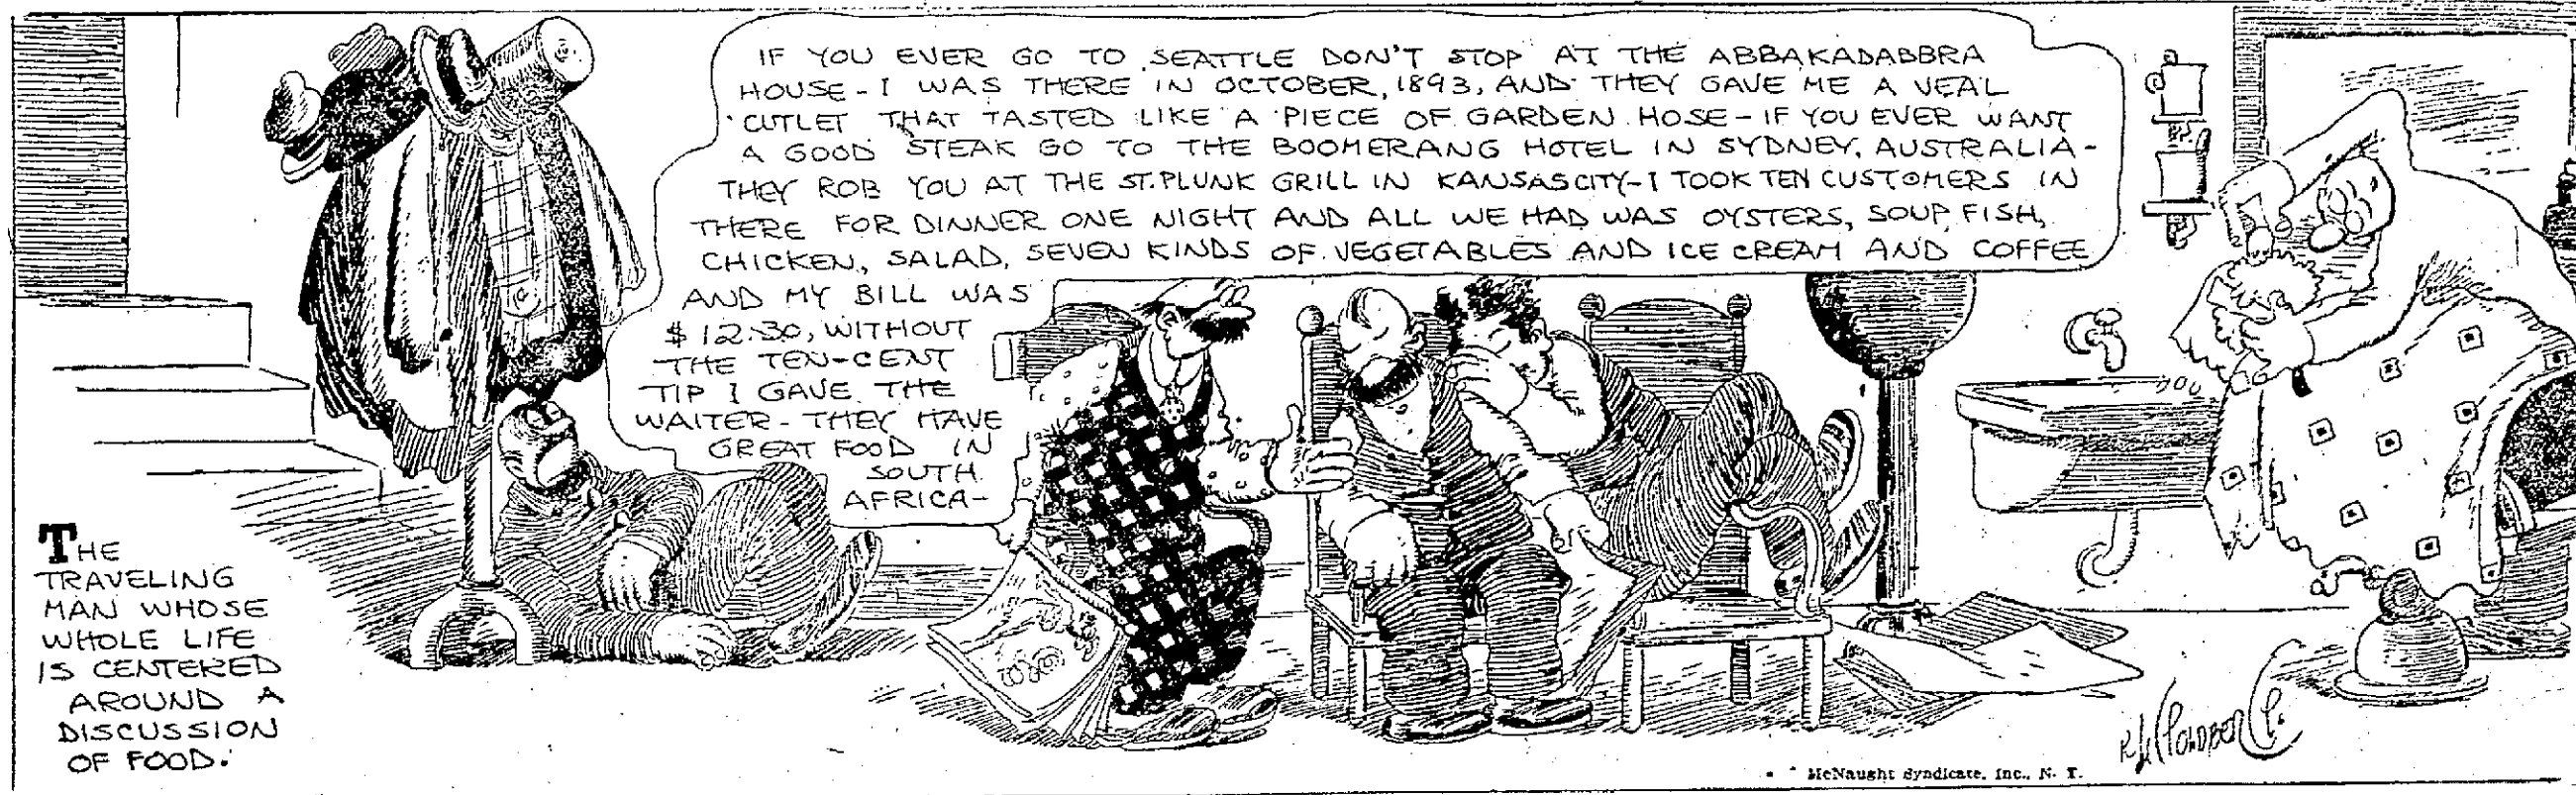

Appear Daily on the Sport Page of THE DAILY BEE

OUT OUR WAY—By Williams

STEVE HIMSELF—COUNTRY DOCTORS ARE TOO SOCIABLE

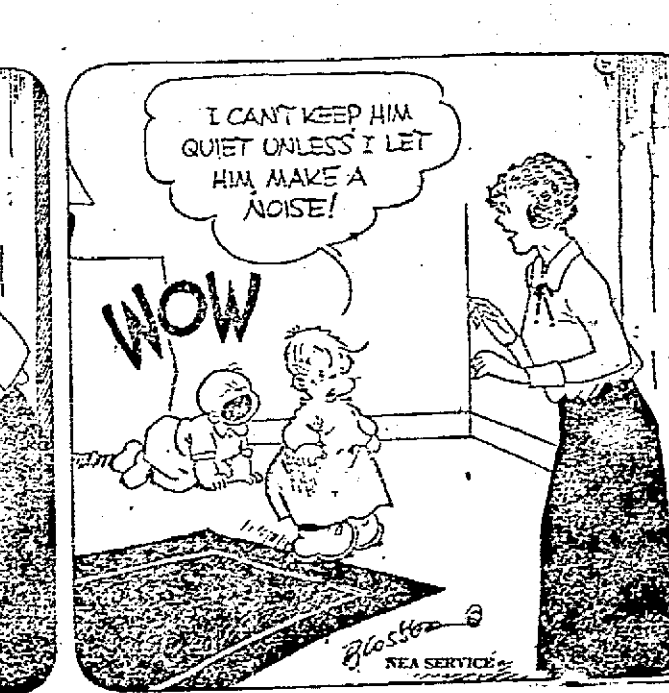

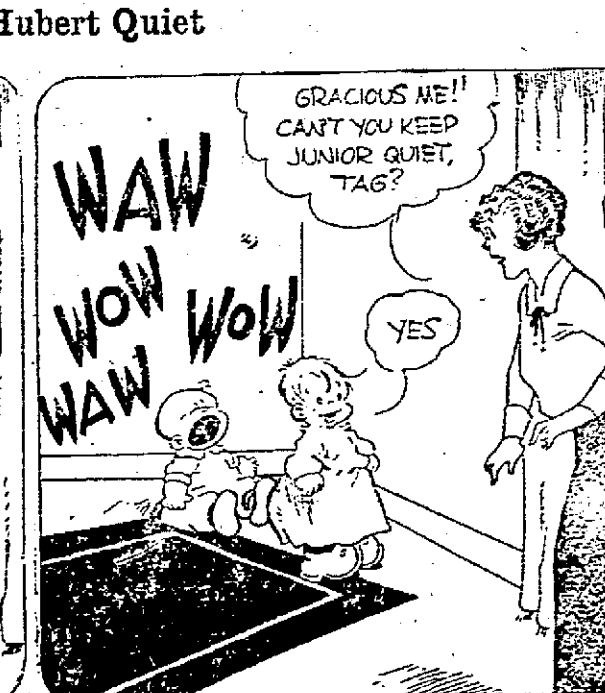

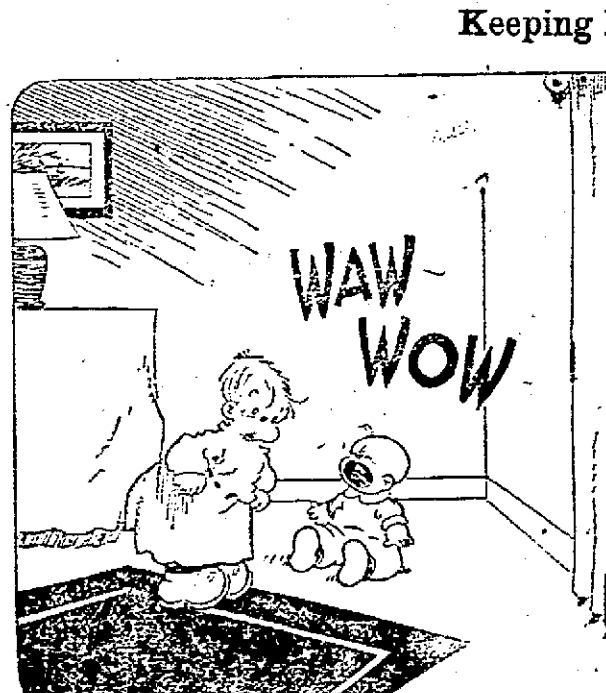

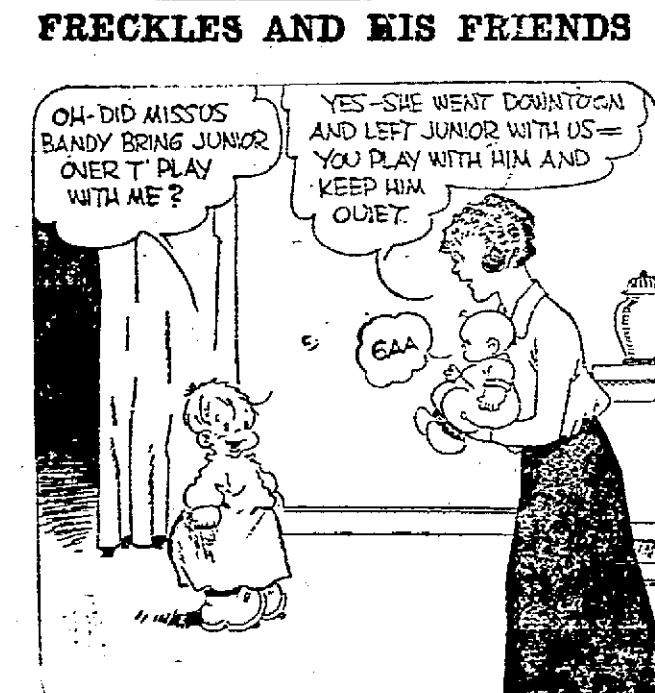

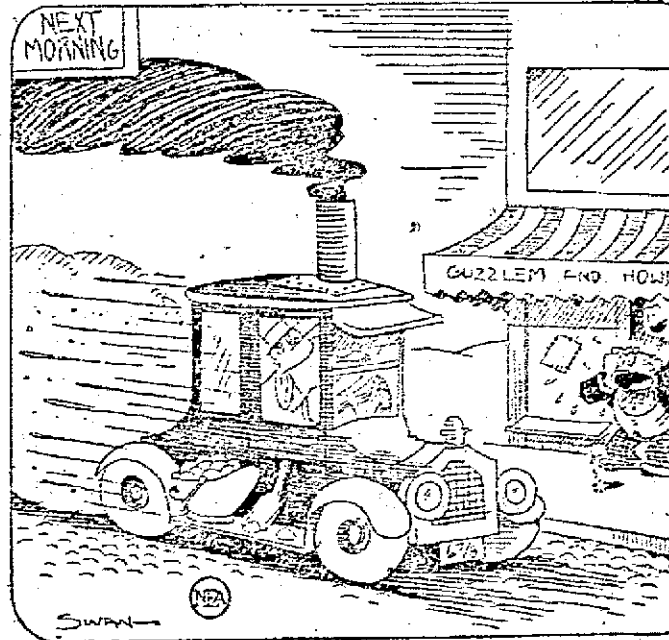

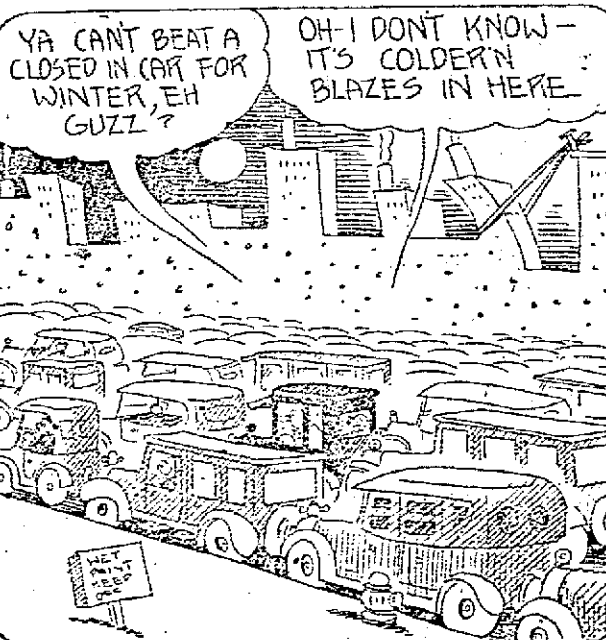

By Ruben Goldberg

SALESMAN SAM

Hot Stuff!

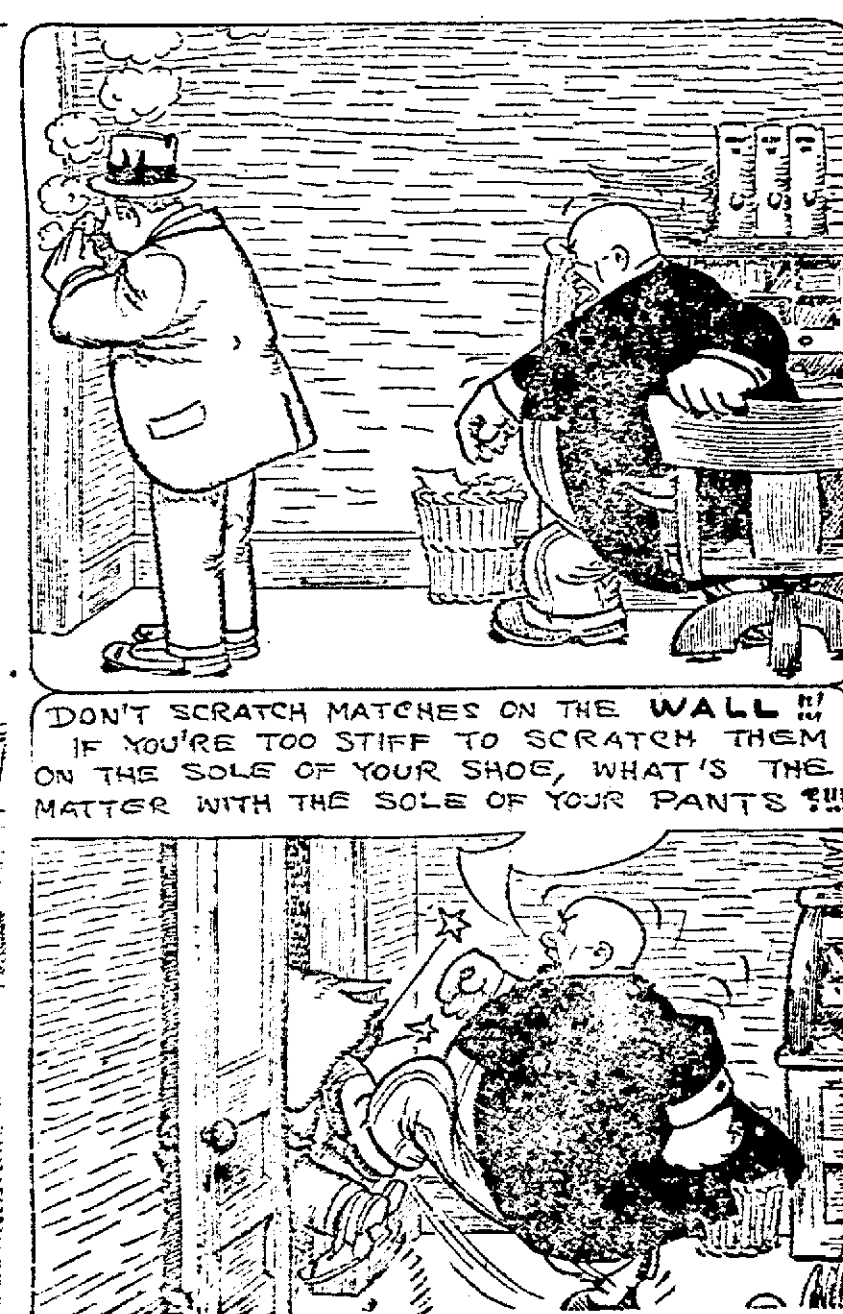

By Swan

Keeping Hubert Quiet

EVERETT TRUE—By Condo

OUR BOARDING HOUSE—By Ahern

Call
Phone Number
21.

Call
Phone
Number
21.

Your Wants - All of Them - Supplied Here

WANT AD PAGE

ANNOUNCEMENT

Open 5:30 A. M. To 12 Night
The White House Cafe, 116 Market Street. Farmers especially invited.
11-1R&B1m

HIGHEST PRICES PAID FOR furniture and household goods. Danville Auction House, 215 Craghead St.
Phone 994-W. 9-25 2&R 11

PLUMBING & HEATING
Fred D. Anderson
309 Bridge Street. Phone 708.
1-10R&B11

THE BEST IS ALWAYS
the cheapest. Call 150
Farley Plbg. & Heating Co.
Contractors and Engineers
R&B 11

AUTO FREE AT THE
Hub. Sensational sale of men's and boy's suits, overcoats, hats, shoes and furnishings. The Hub, 307 Main street.
10-31R&B11

W. R. EDMUNDS & COMPANY,
Heating and Plumbing, 221 Craghead
Street. Phone 2137 and 1867.
R&B 11

Phone Two-Two-Hundred will put you in touch with Albert A. Hall
Graduate Tuner and Player Expert
Member National Ass'n. of Piano
Tuners, Inc.
10-31R&B1m

CLOTHES WASHED & GEt. Sent for and delivered. Phone 1322. Danville Damp Laundry, 613 N.
Union St. We give S. & H. stains.
12-27 11R

SAVE OUR TICKETS AND GET
free work. We do all family washing. Phone 921 for wagon. Wash
Laundry. 6-7 9 11

JUST LOOK AND SEE for yourself. 1 peck of sweet juicy Oranges, 65c. 1 peck of great big Grape Fruit,
60c. 1 gal. of large sweet Tangerines, 50c. This fruit is direct from the growers in Florida and you will see for yourself what a great bargain you are getting. Do not wait one minute but get a move on you and come to the store that sells it cheaper. F. M. Meaks, Phone 132
—190. 11-20B&R21

BOBBY GARCIA
GETS DECISION

(By The Associated Press.)
BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 19.—
Bobby Garcia, of Camp Holabird, was awarded the decision on a foul over Frankie Rice, of Baltimore, in the first round of a scheduled 12-round bout here tonight, the referee stopping the fight after warning Rice numerous times against low punches.
The final blow which caused the referee to halt the bout was not discernable to the spectators. Garcia had slightly the better of the bout after overcoming an early lead piled up by Rice. Garcia weighed 126 1/2 pounds and Rice 128 3/4.

REMOVAL WAS LEGAL

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 19.—
Charles Kasavog, a veteran of the world war whom Congressman Albert Johnson today told a committee of the United States Senate investigating the Veterans' Welfare Bureau was kidnaped from this state, was taken to Pennsylvania legally by L. C. Joseph.
Mr. Joseph, a member of the bureau, and his wife, said that the veteran's stipend from the government was suspended.

Mr. Joseph said an order forbidding the removal of Kasavog from a state hospital at Staunton, near Tacoma, had been issued but that the order had not been made permanent.
Kasavog, Mr. Joseph continued, was taken to a hospital near Philadelphia about the most serious work.

When the atmosphere is sooty,
the sky overcast with threats of rain, evening is as dreary as a winter day. Each moves about with the proverbial chip on the shoulder and a drop to the corner of the mouth that bodes evil for all who cross his path.

Traffic is probably the dominating reason. When the weather is fair, many walk and ride the bus lines.
If it is threatening all crowd to the already jammed subways and the fighting air is aroused.

And New York hangs in the suspension of fear, a true London weather, or demerol, very often in the fall.

The opera season is on, and the professional "claque" are warming up for a busy season. They are the men who start the applause, and keep it going when an audience isn't responsive enough. Who hires them is a mystery; the opera company, the stars, the management all deny their existence.

Yet each night they line the outer rim of the top balcony at the Metropolitan and express their joy unbounded at the end of each aria or scene. Their technique varies. Some cup their hands and produce a surficial applause. Others extend their fingers and give forth a ringing sound. But the majority clasp with the palms of their hands and swell the applause into a thunderous roar.

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS

FOR SALE: A SIX ROOMER KERsantine chandelier, perfect condition.
Splendid bargain for a church. For particulars write Mrs. P. A. Farmer,
Keokuk, Va. 11-20R&B11

CALL HARRIS COAL CO.
For good coal, prompt service and low prices. Phone 1745. R&B 11

WE CAN SELL ANY REASONABLY priced real estate in Danville. We handle on commission only. Call us for fire insurance today. Phone 336.
Office: Memorial Temple. E. B. Meade
Company, Inc. 11-31R&B11

NEW PANTS TO MATCH ANY Coat—Bring your old coat or vest that you want matched. Harris Clothing
Co. 10-24R&B11

FOR SALE—SMALL LUNCH room. Good location. Can be bought very reasonable to quick buyer. See Danville Lunch Room, No. 110 1/4
Craghead St. 11-15R&B11

TRUCKS FOR SALE OR HIRE.
COLONIAL GARAGE
Market St. Phone 1620
11-2R&B1m

E. J. WYATT, JR.
Fresh Meats, Fish and Groceries.
320 Ridge Phone 377.
11-16R&B1m

WAGONS FOR SALE
One and two-horse farm wagons; two spring delivery wagons, prices right.
Danville Wagon Co.
10-29R&B11

SEVERAL RE-BUILT REMINGton and Underwood typewriters for sale. Woodstock Typewriter Sales
501 119 Market St. Phone 1841-J.
11-10R&B11

Lower Main Clothing Prices
$1.50 val. Boys Slipover Sweaters 98c.
$1.50 val. Children's Union Suits 69c.
$5.00 val. Men's Army Shirts, $2.95.
$1.50 val. Men's Blue Overalls, 98c.
New Army Coats, all wool, $2.98.
Men's all-wool stylish Overcoats $12.50
We have hundreds of other specials that will show you that we always have bargains.
Jacob Silverman Cloth'g Co.
11-20R&B11

FOOD SPECIALTIES:
For Eggs, Feed Hens
"Ful-O-Pep" Dry Mash
Fat Hogs, Smithfield Flavor,
Peanut Meal, Schumacher
Keep Healthy Hunting Dogs on Perfection Dog Food
Phone 563.
R. L. Campbell & Co.
205 Craghead St.
11-20R11

DEBT NOTICES TO BE SENT OUT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Indications were given in responsible quarters today that the world war foreign debt commission at its next meeting would be urged to send through the state department formal "reminders" to the nations which have not yet reached a settlement with the United States relative to their debts.

Such a suggestion was to have been made at the last meeting of the commission on two or three weeks ago but was not brought up for the reason, understood, that the negotiations relative to the German reparations guarantee were in progress and the believe was generally among commission members that these negotiations might be harmed should a move then be made.

EXPULSED, SCHOOL
BOY AND OTHERS
WRECK ROOMS

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Edward Tyder, 13, was expelled from the grammar school of the Church of the Visitation and thrashed for re-fracting last night vandals broke into the buildings of the grammar and high schools and wrecked the rooms, the damage being estimated at $10,- 000. Tyder has confessed his share in the destruction and named others as his accomplices.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

They broke in through a basement
window, according to the confession,
took fire axes from the walls, smashed
every door, chopped the black-
boards to kindling, smashed all the
desks and decorated the ruins with
the contents of ink bottles.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE

WANTED!
Young Lady Typist-Machine Dictator.
Only Two or Three Days Work.

Ask for Mr. Reynolds, Leeland
Annex, Now.

WANTED—LADY FOR OFFICE work. Harnsberger's Dept. Store.
11-20R&B11

AUCTION SALES

AUCTION SALE
Of small farms on Yanceyville Road, from 5 to 15 acres. Will be sold
TUESDAY, NOV. 27TH, 2:00 P. M.
This land lies beautifully and is very desirable for a suburban home.
Easy terms. You can't afford to miss this sale! For information, see RAMSEY & ASHWORTH, Inc.
11-19R&B11

AUCTION SALE OF PERSONAL property December 1, 1923, 10:30 a. m., consisting of the following: 2 horses, 1 wagon, 1 spring wagon, 1 set buggy harness, 1 set wagon harness, plows and harrows, 2 cutting machines. At old Hutchings place, Dry Fork, Va. D. Marshall, Auctioneer. 11-18R&B11

HELP WANTED—MALE

WANTED—MAN TO WASH CARS and do general work around garage.
Apply at once. Wilson-Meade Motor
Co. 11-20R&B11

ROOM AND BOARD—REASONable price. 211 E. Ridge St. Phone
1263-W. 11-13R&B11

SITUATIONS WANTED

WANTED, A POSITION: A YOUNG lady desires a position as a typist or a clerk. Telephone 2236-J. 11-31R&B11

CHAS. POINDEXTER
NEVER KNOCKED OUT IN FOOTBALL

(By The Associated Press.)
CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Nov. 19.—
Charles Crawford Poindexter, left guard of the University of North Carolina, eleven, is one of those students who never played football before coming to the university.

He has, from Franklin, in the mountains of the Western part of the state, and he has the ruggedness and determination that bespeak high prizes for these qualities in mountain-bred men.

The most interesting thing about his football career is that he has never had time taken out or missed playing in a varsity game during his four years here. Not to have been knocked out a single time is a distinct record—one that no other member of the squad can boast.

The Fetters are looking to the mountains for more such men.

Counting the season with the freshman team of which he was a star member, he has played five years of football. He was picked for all South Atlantic guard last year. He is 23 years old, weighs 178 pounds and is five feet 11 inches in height.

He was captain of Carolina's wrestling team last year and state Olympic heavyweight champion. For three years he has been a varsity track man.

Poindexter belongs to the category of football players who knock into a cocked hat the theory of some folks that athletes and scholarship do not mix. He has not only graduated in three and one-half years, but made high marks in his studies. He has taken an active interest in practically all campus activities. Last year he was president of the Y. M. C. A.
He is a member of the Golden Fleece and a number of other honorary organizations. This is his first year in the school of law.

Fondly he won many high honors in the university but perhaps the biggest honor lies in the fact that he has worked his way through while winning them.

CAPTAIN WITH CREW GUILTY OF RUM COUNT

NORFOLK, Nov. 19.—Captain E. W.
Latham, master of the British auxiliary schooner Pesquid, was sentenced six months in jail and fined $500 in federal court today, after Judge
J. Edgar Smith found Latham's motion for a new trial. Two members of the Pesquid's crew, A. V. Schwarz and W. B. Cowart, were fined $500 each and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

The Pesquid was seized by the coast guard tug Mascoutin, off Portsmouth, Va., July 21, last. She had approximately 1,500 cases of liquor aboard. Schooner and cargo are now in custody of the court.

POTENTIAL PRESIDENTS

DAVID H. HUNTER.
Born
Monroe, N. C., Feb. 11, 1852.
Independent city schools graduate.
S. C., 1888-91. Member University of Texas faculty, teaching political science, 1894-1902. President A. J.
College of Texas, 1902-05. President University of Texas, 1905-08. Secretary of agriculture in Woodrow Wilson's cabinet, 1913-20. Secretary of treasury 1920-21. President Bell Telephone Securities Company since 1921.
Home, New York.

FOR SALE—AUTOMOBILES

For Sale Automobiles.
1. 1923 Four-Door Sedan
(brand new).
2. 1923 Dodge Tourings.
1. 1922 Dodge Touring.
1. 1921 Dodge Roadster.
1. 1922 Ford Sedan.
1. 1921 Ford Touring.
1. 1921 Dodge Panel truck.
Gardner Motor Co.
11-19R&B11

USED CAR DEPT.
Open Until 9 P. M.

1 Dodge Roadster.
1 Dodge Light Delivery Truck.
1 Ford Light Delivery Truck.
1 Ford Roadster, with starter.
1 Ford Roadster, without starter.
1 Chevrolet Coupe, 1922 model.
1 Chevrolet Light Del. Truck.
1 Chevrolet Convertible Body.
4 Ford Tourings.
See these cars and get our easy-payment plan.
Anderson Motor Co.,
Craghead St.
11-19R&B11

AUTO SERVICE

AUTO TIRE REPAIRING
Full line of Firestone and McClenren tires and tubes. Danville Vulcanizing
Co., Loyal street, phone 1908.
11-15R&B1m

BEST TAXI SERVICE

Day or night. Call Gurnell Transfer Co. Phone 1731. 10-19R&B1m

GERMANY'S DEFIANCE OF TREATY

(W. S. Copeland in Newport News
Times-Herald)
The return to Germany of the former Crown Prince is just another link in the ponderous chain of evidence that the Germans have little respect for the treaty of Versailles, flout it wherever possible and usually with success.

The Crown Prince and his father fled to Holland before the smoke of battle had cleared away and the Dutch, holding that the refugees were legitimate political refugees, refused to surrender them to the Allies.

There is a clause in the treaty which provides that those accused of acts in violation of the laws and customs of war be handed over to Allied courts for trial. The Germans signed this treaty and the name of the Crown Prince, as well as that of his precious and mentally perverted father, rank high on the list of those thus accused.

Germany, waving that the Allies expect too much in the way of reparations, has refused to pay the sums assessed against her. The former Crown Prince, however, now is on German soil and if Stresemann and his associates really want to obey the terms of the treaty they can no less than surrender one of the culprits who was responsible for the holocaust of the World War.

All the Berlin governments have evidenced compliance with the Versailles guarantee and it is safe to assume that Stresemann will do likewise, so far as the surrender to the Allies of the former Crown Prince is concerned. The younger Wilhelm knew this of a certainty when he left the protecting custody of his father, and he never would have made the trip to his estates in Germany. Bravo long has been synonymous with Ro-henzoilern—the vulpine still struts, notwithstanding that its wings are clipped.

ATTENTION, ROYAL ARCH MASONS

Attend a stated convocation of Euclid Chapter, No.
15, R. A. M., this evening at 7:30 o'clock, Tabernacle in Masonic Temple. Regular business.
E. G. ANDERSON, Sec.
R&B

LOST AND FOUND

LOST: SATURDAY NIGHT, ON Market or Union street, lady's open-face Hamilton watch. Reward if returned to Edw. A. Farley's store, R&B

LOST DOWN TOWN MONDAY:
Warranty deed of N. Y. Seaside Land
Co. to Needham H. Benefield, Danville, Va. Finder kindly phone No.
926, or leave at The Register office.
R&B 11

LOST OR STOLEN—PLATINUM bracelet containing five diamonds, pearl necklace with white gold clasp,
pearl bar pin and pair gold cuff links.
Suitable reward for information or return to John B. Anderson, Jr., Phone
No. 364 or 651-J. 11-19R&B11

A STRAY COW—A BLACK AND white spotted cow came to my place last Saturday. Owner can have same by applying to No. 62 Dallas Ave., Schoolfield and paying for this adv.
and the feed. W. T. Deaton.

STRAYED—HOLSTEIN AND JERsey mixed, moody leaved cow. Restreak up back bone and white spot on left side. Reward for information.
J. M. Craddock, 9 Selma Ave., Schoolfield. 11-19R&B11

FOUND
IN 30 DAYS
5000 milk bottle, with Danville Dairy Products Co. name on them. There are still 15,000 missing. Any information for recovery, phone 530.
10-23R&B1m

FOR RENT—ROOMS

FOR RENT—FURNISHED ROOM with hot bath connection, with or without table board. Phone 1176-J.
11-19R&B11

FOR RENT: FURNISHED ROOMS with or without board; room and board $6.00 and $7.00 per week. Home cooking. Central Boarding House, 615 Patton street. Mrs. T. A. Adams.
10-30R&B11

FOR RENT: ONE FURNISHED bedroom. On car line. Phone 941.
11-16R&B11

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE

BEST BUILDING LOTS
in Danville—Fairview. See Isenhour, Gravelly Bros. 11-23R&B1m

STOKES CASE IS ABOUT SETTLED

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Settlement of the present suit of Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes against W. E. D. Stokes, wealthy hotel owner, virtually was agreed upon today. At the conclusion of hearings before Supreme Court Justice Wasservogel and a series of conferences between opposing counsel, it was announced that issues in the case were simplified greatly so that actual court proceedings would be so brief as to be almost formal.

Virtually the only question remaining in the case, it was indicated, was whether Stokes would be granted partial custody of the two children, Mabel and James, in the face of their mother's insistence upon full and absolute custody.

"ORDER PUBLICATION"
Issued by order of the Clerk of the Corporation Court of Danville, entered on the 27th day of October, 1923.
VIRGINIA:
In the Clerk's Office of the Corporation Court of Danville, on the 27th day of October, 1923.
John Fudala . . . . . Plaintiff
Elizabeth Fudala . . . . . Defendant

IN CHANCERY
The object of this suit is to obtain from the said Court a decree divorcing the plaintiff, John Fudala, a vinculo matrimonii from the said defendant, Elizabeth Fudala, on the grounds of desertion, neglect and desertion.
And an affidavit having been made and duly filed that the said defendant, Elizabeth Fudala, is a non-resident of the State of Virginia, it is therefore ordered that she do appear here within ten days after due publication of this order once a week for four successive weeks in The Bee, a newspaper published in the City of Danville, Virginia, and do what is necessary to protect her interest in this suit.
A Copy Teste:
OTIS BRADLEY, Clerk.

B. H. Custer, F. C.
10-30R&B11

RENT A CAR
Drive It Yourself.
U-Drive-It Station
Phone 11

SERVICE
THAT COUNTS
Private Laying Out Rooms.
Free Funeral Chapel

T. A. FOX & CO.
Funeral Directors
531 Main St. Phone 45

RENT A CAR
Drive It Yourself.
U-Drive-It Station
Phone 11

SERVICE
THAT COUNTS
Private Laying Out Rooms.
Free Funeral Chapel

T. A. FOX & CO.
Funeral Directors
531 Main St. Phone 45

RENT A CAR
Drive It Yourself.
U-Drive-It Station
Phone 11

SERVICE
THAT COUNTS
Private Laying Out Rooms.
Free Funeral Chapel

T. A. FOX & CO.
Funeral Directors
531 Main St. Phone 45

RENT A CAR
Drive It Yourself.
U-Drive-It Station
Phone 11

SERVICE

THEY COME OUT WHITE

Send your linens and other clothes to be washed as you like—they will come back to you snow white. Our laundry methods insure clean clothes, and clothes free from rips and tears and loose buttons. Care is our watchword as much as cleanliness. We invite our customers and the public generally to see for themselves the perfection of our process.

Home of the Snow-White Finish.

333
PATTON
STREET

PHONE
NO.
85.

Government Accuses Swift Co. of Fraud

Counter Claim for Two Million Is Uncle Sam's Reply to Packers' Charge That $1,500,000 Is Owed for Army Bacon.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—A counter claim seeking recovery of nearly $2,000,000 is the government's answer to Swift and Company's allegation that the government owes it about $1,500,000 on a wartime contract for Army Bacon.

A brief period by the Department of Justice says the existence of such a contract has not been proved and accuses the company of fraud, violation of its food administration license by taking greater profits than permitted and other offenses. It asks recovery of $1,571,882 for alleged excessive charges between September, 1918 and March 1919 and the return of $422,242 profits which it avers were forfeited because of the company's "misconduct."

G. F. Swift, vice-president of the company, in a statement issued after the Department had announced its intention to file the brief, urged that public judgment be reserved until the court of claims reached a decision on the case. He denied emphatically that the company's profits on the deal were excessive and charged that the government had failed to take bacon it had ordered and was trying after a lapse of four years to offset damages claimed by the firm.

"Built up" charges, "aggravated losses" and "pyramided" production costs are alleged in the government's brief to form the basis of the Swift claim.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20.—Poor cables caused a drop of 4 to 7 points on the near months in the cotton market today. During the course of the first call. Later months were better supported and after the call the entire list moved upward and soon was trading at new high levels for the season. Favorable spot accounts and expectations of small ginning figures from the census bureau on the open market tomorrow caused the strength. At the end of the first half hour prices were 12 to 21 points over the close of yesterday with December up to 34.25. Local factors reported sales of 1,000 bales of spots after hours yesterday.

December ..... 34.00
January ..... 34.15
March ..... 34.45
July ..... 33.25

NEW YORK COTTON.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The cotton market showed renewed firmness at the opening today with all months making new high records on an opening advance of 7 to 30 points. There was a good deal of realizing and some southern hedging which caused moderate reactions right after the call. January sold off from 34.47 to 34.30 further trade buying to six prices was and May from 34.75 to 34.67 but reported and there was a scattering demand which gave the market a steady undertone. While Liverpool was lower, prices there were considered relatively firm in view of yesterday's advance in sterling and early reports from the south said there was a good spot demand at a firm basis. December deliveries sold at 34.90 at the opening or within 10 points of the long talked of 35 cents level.

December ..... 34.90
January ..... 34.40
March ..... 34.60
May ..... 34.75
July ..... 33.20

NEW DINING CAR RESULT FROM INCREASED TRAVEL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—Increased travel to California has necessitated the placing in commission of light new dining cars by the Western Pacific road. Similar cars have also been made by the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe. A general surplus of unskilled labor has begun to develop through the state in the last three weeks with the ending of the agricultural season. Road work and building construction continue active with all men in the skilled trade fully employed. The iron and steel industry is doing well and the shipbuilding and repair work is also active. Increase in operations.

TIRES

30x3 ..... $6.25
30x3 1-2 ..... $7.25

Also the famous MICHELIN Tires, at prices never heard of

TRUCK & TIRE CO.
217 N. UNION STREET.

STOCK REPORT

Thomson & McKinnon.

Sales to Noon.

Atchafalca	96 3/4
Atchafalca Copper	37 3/4
Atchafalca Chemical & Dye	60
Amer. Smelting & Refining	58 1/2
American Locomotive	75
American Tel. & Tel.	123 1/2
American International	25 1/2
American Agr. Chem.	13 1/2
American Cigar	100 1/2
American Sugar	58
American Woolen	71 1/4
Amer. H. & L. pfd.	45
Baldwin Locomotive	128 1/2
Bethlehem Steel	28 1/2
Baltimore & Ohio	58 1/2
Coca Cola	73 1/2
Chandler Motors	52
Chesapeake & Ohio	73
Cosden & Co.	27 1/2
Corn Products	120 1/2
Cruella Steel	51 1/2
Cerro de Pasco	42
Ohio Copper	27 1/2
Cuba Cane Sugar, com.	12 1/2
do pfd.	24 1/2
Chicago, R. I. & Pac.	24 1/2
Chicago Mil. & St. Paul	14
do pfd.	26
Chicago & N. W.	61 1/2
Consolidated Textile	6 1/2
Erie, com.	28 1/2
Erie, first pfd.	64 1/2
Famous Players-Lasky	14
General Motors	33
General Asphalt	58 1/2
Great Northern, pfd.	25 1/2
Gulf States Steel	25 1/2
Hudson Motors	25 1/2
Int. Mer. Marine	23 1/2
Int. pfd.	23 1/2
Invincible Oil	8 1/2
International Nickel	11 1/2
Kennecott Copper	24 1/2
Kelly-Springfield Tire	66 1/2
Lima Locomotive	10 1/2
Missouri Pacific, com.	28 1/2
do pfd.	4 1/2
Middle States Oil	14
Mex. Seaboard	28 1/2
Mont. Ward & Co.	28 1/2
Marland Oil	57
Maxwell Motor	22 1/2
North American Co.	53 1/2
Northern Pacific	101
New York Central	14 1/2
N. Y. N. H. & Hartford	48 1/2
N. Y. Air Brake "A"	41 1/2
N. Y. Air Brake	41 1/2
Panama	39 1/2
Pacific Oil	60
Pan-American Petroleum	26 1/2
Phillips Petro.	95 1/2
Peoples Gas	18 1/2
Producers & Refs.	49
Penn-Seaboard Steel	77 1/2
Royal Dutch N. Y.	71 1/2
Reading	12 1/2
R. J. Reynolds "B"	10 1/2
Ray Consolidated	47 1/2
Republic Steel	19
Rep. Iron & Steel	87
Sinclair Oil & Refining	103 1/2
Southern Pacific	55
Studebaker Corporation	33 1/2
S. O. of Calif.	86 1/2
S. O. of N. J.	30 1/2
Sears Roebuck	16 1/2
Southern Railway, com.	56 1/2
Skelly Oil	89 1/2
Tobacco Products	20 1/2
Tobacco Prod. "A"	39 1/2
Texas Co.	13 1/2
Texas & Pacific	62 1/2
Texas Pac. C. & O.	60
Union Pacific	37 1/2
Utah Copper	94 1/2
U. S. Ind. Alcohol	30 1/2
United States Rubber	30 1/2
United States Steel	28 1/2
Vanadium Corp.	58 1/2
Virginia Cans. Chem.	34 1/2
Va. Car. Chem. pfd.	55 1/2
Westinghouse Electric	34 1/2
Wabash, pfd. "A"	55 1/2
Union Carbide	55 1/2

Sales to noon, 490,000.

TICKER TALK

Thomson & McKinnon.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Cotton ginning report will be issued at 10 a. m. Wednesday.

Paris constructs adjournment of ambassadors conference until today as sign of agreement rather than Franco-British deadlock. Poincare yields on some points.

Roumanian government is about to conclude sale of share in production of oil companies for next ten or twelve years to France at approximately $90,000,000 francs.

Laclede Gas Light declares regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on common and semi-annual of $2.50 on preferred.

Soo Line declares four per cent. on common and 4 per cent. on preferred payable from surplus earnings in 1923-19.

Lord & Taylor ad declares 16 per cent. on 2nd preferred reducing accumulated dividends on 2nd preferred to 40 per cent.

Wick Wire Spencer Steel net for nine months ended September 30 $898,504 or $9.10 a share on preferred.

General Baking Co. declares quarterly dividend of $1.50 on common compared with previous rate of $1 quarterly also quarterly $2 on preferred.

Tob. Products Corp. calls for redemption Dec. 20 its $4,000,000 seven per cent. notes. Directors favor reclassification of "A" shares to make dividends cumulative.

Surplus freight cars in good repair Nov. 7, were 21,955, increase 7,478 over October 31. Car shortage 7,999, decrease 3,227.

Kansas City Southern including Taurana and Fort Smith October net after tax $45,252 against $382,978 in October 1922. Ten months $4,122,497 against $2,147,322.

Issue of $2,500,000 Webster Mills ten years 5 1/2 per cent. gold notes guaranteed by American Woolen offered at 99 to yield 5 3/8.

Buffalo Rochester and Pittsburgh for quarter ended Sept. 30, surplus after charges $142,065 against deficit $1,254,123 in 1922 quarter.

Atlantic Refining reduces gasoline one cent in Penna. to 35 cents tank wagon.

Pittsburgh Edison October balance after charges $42,252 against $258,419. Ten months $3,711,640 against $2,295,085.

MORNING COTTON LETTER

Thomson & McKinnon
NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The market is controlled by a few large bull operators, and should they continue to buy as they did the last two days, higher prices are inevitable. Believe as each a rapid advance action is entitled to a substantial reaction.

POOR HEALTH

if oftentimes directly traced to defective eyes. I tell you in a single examination the condition of your eyes; whether you need glasses or not. If you do I will grind and fit them for you at a cost well within your means.

EYES TESTED WITHOUT CHARGE.

Phone 371-J
Office No. 5
Entrance
Market St.

DR. B. LEVINSON
OPTICIAN

Over the First National Bank
Danville, Va.

Increased Activity In Cotton Spinning

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Increased activity in the cotton spinning industry was shown in the October report of the census bureau, issued today which showed almost a billion more spindle hours than in September and the largest number of spindle hours since June.

Active spindle hours for October totaled 8,381,886,213 or an average of 223 hours per spindle in place, compared with 7,482,669,995, or 200 per spindle in place in September this year and 8,289,885,446, or 223 per spindle in place in October last year.

Spinning spindles in place October 31, totaled 37,550,250 of which 34,378,662 were active at some time during the month, compared with 37,491,708 in place September 30 this year and 33,939,885 active at some time during the month, and 37,128,659 in place October 31 last year and 33,859,076 active at some time during that month.

The average number of spindles operated during October was 35,851,435 or at 95.4 per cent of capacity on a single shift basis, compared with 34,941,676, or at 93.2 per cent. capacity in September this year and 35,457,000 in September last year.

Home of Lawless Cancer Treatment
1432 N. Main St.
25 years success in the removal of Cancers, Tumors, Cysts, Wens, molds, warts and all skin troubles
Write for Free Booklet.
Phone 1678

Majestic Tonight

Curtain 8:30 p. m.
Late Comers Not Seated Until End
Of Act.

Messrs. Shubert present
A JOYOUS MUSICAL
SHOW OF YOUTH
Sally Irene and Mary

Prices, 50c to $2.50. Plus Tax.
Seat Sale Box Office.

TODAY BROADWAY TODAY

Pola, the beautiful, flashing alluringly through two different worlds—
—as a fashionable daughter of luxury, with everything her heart desires, except love;
—and as a poor man's wife, with love and precious little else;
—as a member of the smart set, arrayed in fashion's finest;
—and as a humble housewife, in plain gingham frock.
It's a role that pulses with the heart-throb of the world and leaves a song in your heart.

AESOPS FABLES NEWS

Wednesday and Thursday.
"SOULS FOR SALE" BY EUPERT HUGHES

5c-17c BIJOU TODAY

HOOT GIBSON

IN HIS LATEST MOTION PICTURE

"OUT OF LUCK"

ALSO MACK-SENNETT COMEDY "BOW WOW" WITH "TEDDY" THE FAMOUS DOG.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

New Touring Car

$295

F. O. B. DETROIT

Ford utility, durability, and economy are embodied to the full in this new Ford Touring Car.

In addition, it is up-to-the-minute in appearance. It is finished in an enduring black, rich and deep in lustre, obtained by improved painting and enameling processes. A high radiator, enlarged hood, graceful cowl, slanting windshield, and streamline body are pleasing details that enhance its style and charm.

With this handsome exterior, it combines every mechanical feature essential to open car utility. It is easy to handle, always reliable, ready for any trip, anywhere, at any time.

This car can be obtained on the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan

Crowell Auto Co.

DANVILLE, VIRGINIA.
Branches at Chatham, Gretna, So. Boston, Va.
Yanceyville and Roxboro, N. C.

CARS · TRUCKS · TRACTORS